TWO CENTS

DEBS PROVES AN ELOQUENT TALKER

His Lecture on "Labor and Liberty" Heard by a Fair Audience Last Night.

SOCIALISM IS HIS REMEDY

For All the Industrial Troubles of the Present Competitive System.

TRUSTS A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Eugene V. Debs' lecture on "Labor and Liberty" at the opera house last night under the auspices of Trades and Labor council, was not as well attended as had been expected. J. J. Weisend presided, and the presidents of the local unions acted as vice presidents.

Briefly commanding organized labor, Mr. Debs began his address by saying that he would not appeal to the passions of his audience, but rather to their reason.

Centralization and combination, he said, were lowering the lower classes and driving the middle classes into bankruptcy. Private property was considered more valuable under the present competitive system than human life. The trusts shut down their mills to prevent overproduction and to protect the prices of their products. The value of products was maintained by lowering the value of men.

Deprive man of tools and he will lapse into savagery. When tools were primitive the skill was in the man and a trade had to be learned by long apprenticeship. Now the skill is in the machine. Machinery has made man a specialized worker, instead of a tradesman. Man no longer learns to make a complete article, but only a small part of an article.

The tendency was to secure cheaper production. Mr. Debs said wages were never lower than now. Wages should be measured by the worker's power of production. By machinery workers produce from 10 to 20 times as much as he could 50 years ago, but the more perfect machinery becomes the lower wages go.

Today machines make shoes, but they cannot wear them; but on the other hand diminish consumption by depriving workers of the means of buying shoes. We consequently hear of overproduction of shoes, while there are millions who need shoes. Machinery is all right, but the worker fails to get his share of the profit. There is no hand work today. The machine comes in where it takes two men to do a job and makes a slave of one and a tramp of the other. "I sympathize with the tramp; first, because he is the victim of our social system; second, because, if this system continues, I may become a tramp myself." Men are thrown out of employment, start on the never-ending journey to find a job, finally become tramps. Fifty years ago there were no tramps.

Society is no better than its most degenerate member, as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link. Idle men must be supported by society and idleness leads to crime.

Our system is a competitive one. Man, employer or employee, buys where he can buy cheapest. He never thinks of the sweat shop back of the cheapness. The man who has amassed the largest fortune has destroyed the largest number of his fellow men.

Mr. Debs predicted a greater panic than those of '73 and '93 in the near future. He also said there would be no war in either South Africa or the Philippines if these countries were not commercially valuable.

Speaking of trusts he said the trust is not an evil, but a blessing in disguise. Instead of being owned by a few people, it should be owned by all the people. Honesty in business today he said, was impossible. The best man failed in business.

Private ownership caused all the mischief. If all the directors of the big railroads were to die today trains would still run on time. But if the 850,000 railroad workers stopped, traffic would cease. Socialism, the collective ownership of the means of production, was the remedy.

BRITISH TAKE WEPENER.

After Hard Fighting Save Their Communication With Bloemfontein.

Herschell, O. F. S., April 25.—(Special.)—Reports from Wepener state that the British have occupied that place, having driven off the Boers after hard fighting.

COLDEN FELL.

A Resident of Shadyside Avenue Had an Accident Yesterday.

John Golden, residing on Shadyside avenue, fell over an embankment near his home yesterday and was seriously injured. He was working alone in a stone quarry about 100 yards from his home, and in some manner missed his footing and fell over the embankment, a distance of about 20 feet. He was found by his wife about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in an unconscious condition and was removed to his home and a physician summoned. In falling his back was severely injured and his forehead was cut above the right eye.

THE FIRST CASE.

Howard Foutts Plead Guilty Before Justice McLane for Ill Treating a Horse.

Humane Officer Miller last evening had his first case since his appointment. Miss Martha Porter filed an affidavit in the court of Justice McLane, charging Howard Foutts with ill treating a horse. Foutts entered a plea of guilty and arranged to pay $5 and costs.

Humane Officer Miller has not in the least abated the strictness with which he is fulfilling the duties of his office. Last night two young men from the country, who had left their horse standing from 5 o'clock to 8, were notified that they would have to have the animal put up or he would take care of it.

Robinson Street.

Last night at council Peach called attention to the fact that a petition had been filed several years ago asking that Robinson street be graded and paved between Broadway and Walnut street. The street committee will look after the matter.

EXTRA POLICE RECOMMENDED

The Police Committee Made Some Suggestions In Their Report Presented Last Night.

COUNCIL TOOK NO ACTION

Except to Refer the Whole Thing to the Finance Committee For Investigation.

SOME CHANGES IN THE RULES.

At the meeting of council last night the police committee recommended the adoption of a few changes in the police rules. The report presented was as follows:

"The police committee after careful consideration of the rules governing the police force of East Liverpool, O., submit the following report and recommend that the city council concur with them in order that we may make a more efficient force and procure for the city the proper protection desired:

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 1 that it read "not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height."

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 12 that the policemen shall be permitted to wear a sack coat from May 1 to Sept. 1, but they shall be required to furnish themselves with suits as required by this rule.

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 19 that the latter clause shall read as follows: 'This rule shall not be construed as to prohibit the entering of the aforesaid premises for the purpose of general observation, or upon a suspicion that unlawfully disposed persons or lawbreakers are harbored therein.' The rule as it now stands prevents an officer from entering the saloon unless he is called upon and the new committee seek to remedy this in their amendment.

"We further recommend the addition of two regular policemen and also of two extra policemen, one to be located in the East End and one in the West End of the city from 6 p. m. to 12 p. m. every night and shall stand in line of promotion to the regular force in case of any vacancy that may arise.

"We further recommend that the mayor's office be repainted and the woodwork repainted and that a new carpet be purchased for the mayor's private office room."

The committee closed their report by stating that they had inspected the new cells and suggested that the work be finished. They also reported that the department needed eight belts and clubs, eight pair of nippers, five police stars, seven helmets, one regulation cap, one pair of handcuffs and one pistol pocket.

Robinson stated that he thought the suggestions were all right, but he would like to know where the money was coming from to pay the new men. He said it was an easy matter to recommend, but another thing to provide money, and the finance question was a vital one for the council to wrestle with. He moved the matter go to the finance committee. Nice couldn't see why all the report should go to the finance committee and said the committee had considered the extra expense before they made up the report. He said the people in the suburban districts would have to have more police protection after the new street car lines were built. The report went to the finance committee, but McLane and Nice voted no on the motion.

MORE APPLICATIONS.

Have Been Received for the Pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church, of This City.

Applications for the position of pastor of the First Presbyterian church are still being received by George C. Murphy. This morning a letter was received from the pastor of a Presbyterian church in a Western Pennsylvania town. With it was a recommendation from a member of the church, stating the applicant had been pastor of that church for 17 years and was liked by both the young and old people.

GRIM AND WHAN WANT THE CASH

Council Spent Some Time Last Night Discussing the Worn Out Question.

GASTON WANTED TO KNOW

If Council Intended to Fight the Claims So He Could Act Accordingly.

WILL PREPARE AN OPINION.

The Grim and Whan bills had another inning at council last night, and a council meeting without them would seem strange.

The matter was called up by Clerk Hanley, who said he did it at the request of the attorney for the ex-officer.

Smith opened the debate by asking if the cases were not in court at the present time, as he had understood that they had been carried up. If the court said pay them all right, but he didn't think they ought to be paid before that time.

Marshall said if council intended to fight the claims it was necessary to give Solicitor Gaston some instruction.

Cripps said the parties got a judgment in the local court and he thought spite work was at the bottom of the action of the old solicitor in carrying the cases up. He said he understood council voted at one time to pay the bills.

Smith said council never voted to pay the bills and if the case had been carried up by the solicitor council should take no action in the matter.

Peach said the bills had been legally placed on the pay roll at one time by a vote of five to three, but it was then understood that it took six members to pass the pay roll when it only took a majority and the ruling of the chair kept them off the pay roll.

Marshall said that question was a matter of small importance and the question to be decided now was whether council wished to fight the bills, as an answer had to be filed before the next meeting of council.

Solicitor Gaston said he could have the cases dismissed at any time as far as the city was concerned, but if council wanted him to go ahead and fight them he must have some instructions.

Marshall said the matter should have been settled by the old council, and McHenry said he understood the old solicitor agreed to fight the cases at his own expense. Peach replied that he wouldn't do it, and Solicitor Gaston was asked for an opinion on the cases. He hadn't any and Nice remarked that if the solicitor didn't know anything about the case how were the new members of council expected to vote on the matter intelligently. He expressed an opinion that the matter should have been settled by the old council.

Gaston said he wasn't supposed to know anything about the cases, but that he could let the cases go by default and get permission from the court and file his answer later and in the meantime give council an opinion on the cases.

This suited all the councilmen, and the matter was ended for the steenth time.

THE CITY WILL GET INJUNCTION

Solicitor Gaston Instructed by Council to Commence an Action Against

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

And Compel Them to Get the East End Station Off the Property of the City.

MR. PEACH MADE A SPEECH

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will have to get off the city property in East End or fight a case in court, as council last night ordered Solicitor Gaston to take out an injunction preventing them from completing the station, which they are building in that part of the city.

The matter was called up in council by Peach, who said the company was well aware that the station was being built on an alley, as it had been notified and promised to stop, but had resumed the work. He said: "If the Pennsylvania company is going to take charge of the city of East Liverpool then we had better step down and out. A member of council has been working on that building, knowing that the law was being violated. I move that an injunction be taken out at once." Fisher seconded the motion and then McHenry stated that he didn't believe the city had an alley where the company was building the station, as he didn't believe the ground had ever been accepted by council. He closed by saying that he was in the contracting business and if the Pennsylvania Railroad company or any person else wanted a building put up on the public highway that was his business.

The matter was looked up and it was found that the plat had been accepted some time ago and the station is on city property. The motion carried and McHenry closed the incident with the remark that it would be a long time before a station was built in the East End.

LIGHT FRANCHISE.

It Will Come Up at the Next Meeting. Copies to Be Printed.

At the meeting of council last night Smith called attention to the fact that there was a light franchise to be disposed of and made a suggestion that the clerk have several copies of the ordinance printed and presented to the members of council so that they might be thoroughly acquainted with the ordinance before they voted. Marshall remarked that the ordinance died with the last council. Smith said it would come up again and the clerk will have copies printed.

Pennsylvania Avenue Paving.

A petition was introduced in council last night asking that Pennsylvania avenue be paved from Sugar to Vine street. The petition was referred to the street committee and President Marshall remarked that hereafter all petitions of the kind must have the endorsement of the street committee before council would take action on them.

The men and dog came down the hill road by the brick yard, turned down Pennsylvania avenue and then into Virginia avenue. The dog ran to the railroad and the last seen of it was while it was passing the flint mill. The men said the animal was mad.

It is not at all probable that the proposed brush factory will be built in this part of the city if current reports be true. A person who has held several conferences with representatives of the new company stated yesterday that the Pittsburg concern wanted too much. It is said that the company want a site, a bonus of $2,000 and that stock to the amount of $15,000 be held by Liverpool people. HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

Clerk Hanley Put Council Next to a Good Thing and They Will Follow His Advice.

Last night at council Clerk Hanley called attention to the fact that on April 1, 1898, there was due $15,000 worth of bonds, on July 1 of this year $90,000 was due and in September $62,000 more were due. He said all the bonds were 5 per cent bonds and council could issue 4 per cent refunding bonds, get $2,000 or $3,000 premium and save $1,670 a year in interest. WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14.
No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Ohi! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

MCELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

THE VILE SHOWS CAUSED PROTEST

From the Women's Christian Temperance Union to Be Filed With Council.

SPOKE OF OTHER THINGS

But President Marshall Said Council Wasn't the Proper Place For Communications.

LEGISLATIVE, NOT EXECUTIVE

Council received the following communication at the meeting last night:

To the Mayor and Councilmen of the City of East Liverpool, in Common Council Assembled:

"Gentlemen — We, the Women's Christian Temperance union of East Liverpool, protest against the State Purity law being violated in our city, by the vile shows being permitted in the opera house. Also our State Sunday Rest law is not enforced; we see candy, ice cream and cigar stores opened the last two Sabbaths, also back doors of saloons, men come out and in all day on Sunday. This is contrary to law.

"We, 74 representative women of our city demand that you see to it that these laws are enforced.

"Respectfully,

"THE W. C. T. U."

President Marshall suggested that the petition might be referred to Councilman Cripps or Mayor Davidson, but that it had no business in council. He said: "Council is not an executive body. Its duty is to make laws and not to enforce them. This council is simply a legislative body and does not propose to assume the responsibility for any of the acts of the executive department. That petition has no business here and if any action is to be taken let the parties send it to the proper parties."

THEY HAVE CASH.

Park Commission Furnished With $1,000 With Which to Start Work at the Park.

Professor W. L. Thompson explained to council last night that when the park was accepted they agreed to spend $2,000 on a driveway. He said the commission was now ready to go to work and that he had purchased trees and shrubbery, but that he couldn't have it planted to any advantage until after the driveway was completed. He asked for $1,000 for the expenses this year. The money was voted the commission without a dissenting vote.

SPLENDID OFFERING.

Raised by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist church at their recent thanks offering service made a splendid collection for foreign mission work. Envelopes had been sent out with the result that $75 were raised by that means and the members of the society immediately decided to raise the balance to make it an even $100 among themselves, which was done. The ladies are much pleased with the success of the effort.

ILLEGAL.

SOLICITOR GASTON TOLD COUNCIL A FEW THINGS.

He Spoke on the Subject of the Improvement of Bradshaw Avenue Last Year.

Solicitor Gaston at the meeting of council last night called attention to the fact that he had been informed that the city had improved Bradshaw avenue in an illegal manner, and unless they undid some of the things they had done before the next meeting of council they would be enjoined from collecting some of the assessments. Peach wanted to know if the solicitor was representing the property owners or the city of East Liverpool, and in what way council had acted illegally. The solicitor replied that if he had been properly informed he thought the joining of the sewer and paving in one improvement was illegal; that the improvement cost over $5,000 and notice of the improvement should have been published in two newspapers for three weeks. This was not done. Then some of the property had been assessed over 25 per cent for the improvement. He gave these as a few reasons for thinking the affair had been illegal and closed his statement by saying he was representing the city and not the property holders.

DIDN'T CHANGE IT.

None of the Members of Council Fathered an Ordinance Introduced Last Night.

Last evening at council an ordinance was introduced amending the pawnbrokers' ordinance so that the license would be only $25 per year instead of $100. The ordinance wasn't signed and President Marshall asked if any councilman desired to affix his signature to it. None of them did and the ordinance didn't get a place in the business.

Heddelston Objected.

Heddelston wanted to know last night if there wasn't an ordinance prohibiting the placing of wagons on the city wharf. Marshall replied that there was, and it was his duty to see that the ordinance was enforced, as he was chairman of the wharf committee.

To Finance Committee.

Clerk Harley reported at the meeting of council last night that he had the bonds of several of the city officers. They went to the finance committee without being read.

Bone-Ache is Rheumatism

A vast amount of pain can be avoided by treating rheumatism early. Nature sends aches in the joints, pains and fever to warn of the approach of a rheumatic attack. The cause of the trouble is uric acid and other poisons in the system. TONGALINE taken in time averts the attack. It cuts short the disease by cleansing the system. No external application of an anodyne or lotion can do this. The treatment must be internal to be effective. TONGALINE cures even the worst cases of rheumatism, cases of many years' standing which have resisted all other treatment. But it is always better to take TONGALINE to prevent than to cure.

DEBS' LECTURE.

Those who listened to E. V. Debs' lecture last night were privileged to enjoy listening to an eloquent speaker, who used clear, crisp, plain language, talked coherently and comprehensively and presented his side of the questions treated with great skill. Nevertheless it is not believed Mr. Debs made many, if any, converts to his views. The people of East Liverpool are enjoying prosperity too much to be in a receptive mood for socialistic doctrine.

TO BE APPROVED.

President Marshall seems to have a proper idea of how to transact the business of council. The News Review has repeatedly pointed out that a good deal of time, in fact most of the time of council, was taken up considering and discussing matters that should have been passed upon and reported by the committees of council instead of the whole body. The slip-shod, hap-hazard manner of doing business that has heretofore prevailed has resulted in inextricable confusion and delay in city business. By requiring some member or committee to father each matter that is brought before council there will be fewer social sessions during council meeting, less unnecessary talk and much more business transacted expeditiously and properly. The next thing for President Marshall to do is to fix a time for each committee to meet to attend to the business before it and then see that the committees meet as scheduled.

I. BENTLEY POPE.

Plat of Lots Accepted By Council Last Night—A Very Desirable Location.

The I. Bentley Pope plat of land was accepted by our solons last night. This will be good news for many investors and parties desiring favorable locations on which to erect home residences. This plat of ground is situated on the right hand of Avondale street, and adjacent to the McKinnon addition. It is superbly located, from every standpoint, and lots thereon will be eagerly snapped up, so that it will stand you in good stead to interview Mr. Pope at your very earliest opportunity. Your home will be high and dry, with drainage facilities unsurpassed in all this section. Your view will delight your heart and eyes. The street railway, now in course of construction, will pass right by your door. As a home site, there is nothing finer on the market. As an investment, it is unexceptional. East Liverpool is pushing to the front with giant strides. Houses are in hot demand, and can scarcely be had at any price. This plat of ground comes directly under the head of centrally located. You will make no mistake in investing therein. Every level headed business man and real estate agent in this city is fully aware of the truthfulness of this assertion.

Don't delay. Don't hesitate. Don't let your neighbor have all of the good things. Make hay while the sun shines. Read this article tonight and then hasten to interview Mr. I. Bentley Pope. You cannot fail in being pleased with prices quoted and terms granted. Grasp fortune while you may. You will never regret an investment in the I. Bentley Pope plat.

Council last night accepted the I. Bentley Pope plat of lots. Secure a home site at once. Centrally located. Don't delay. You will be too late if you do. Finest location on the market.

TRENTVALE STREET.

COUNCIL HAD AN INTERESTING DEBATE.

George Reported That the Money Was About Used Up and the Street Wasn't Completed.

Trentvale street came in for a part of the discussion at the meeting of council last night. The discussion was opened by a statement from Engineer George to the effect that the $6,000 had almost all been expended on the road. McHenry wanted the work stopped at once. Nice objected. Peach said they still had $1,000 to spend on the road. Marshall said if the street was not fit to leave when the money voted to be expended on it had been used, the engineer should be held responsible. George said he didn't propose to be held responsible for the street, as council insisted on commencing work at the wrong time of year and it wasn't his fault that the contractor had to work in mud. Marshall said an ordinance should be passed ordering a 12-foot roadway paved. The discussion ended by referring the matter to the street committee to prepare an ordinance and see that the grading is completed.

OUTLINED HIS PLANS.

MARSHALL TELLS HOW BUSINESS WILL BE DONE.

The Committees Will Have More Work to Do and the Whole Council Less.

President Marshall, at the meeting of council last night, remarked that he hoped the committees would do their duty, as it was his intention to have the work done in committees this year and that council would meet simply to ratify their actions. He said any recommendation involving the expenditure of money would hereafter be referred to the finance committee without debate and all street improvements would go to the street committee. He suggested that the light committee make a tour of the city after night and see where lights are needed.

Smith at once called attention to the fact that three lights are needed in the vicinity of Gardendale, and Peach wanted to know if Mr. Marshall considered himself, as president of council, a member of all the committees. Marshall replied that he did and would try to do his share of the work, to which Peach replied: "You have mapped out a big job for yourself. I'll tell you."

Council last night accepted the I. Bentley Pope plan of lots. Secure a home site at once. Centrally located. Don't delay. You will be too late if you do. Finest location on the market.

COLORED CHURCH GOT TWO HUNDRED

Council Took Action on a Damage Claim Presented Last Night.

THE SAME OLD QUESTION

As to Whether Council Could Legally Grant the Amount Was Discussed.

OPINION OF SOLICITOR GASTON.

Last night at council a communication was received from Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor of the African M. E. church, stating that his church had been damaged to the extent of $700 by the improvement to Grant street, but that they would be willing to settle for $200. Nice said he understood a former council had voted to pay the claim. Marshall stated that they had to back out of the agreement, as the solicitor had decided their action was not legal. Nice said he wanted some other opinion than that of the former solicitor and said the congregation was entitled to the money, and for that reason he moved it be paid to them minus the $90 they would be assessed for the street improvement. Solicitor Gaston was asked for an opinion and said he was inclined to agree with the former solicitor that the action of the former council was not legal, but that the matter now came to them in the form of a damage claim and they could pay it, but the former council had no right to donate money to the congregation. McHenry wanted to know if the property was damaged and the solicitor replied that he hadn't seen the place, but whether they had or not would not affect the legality of the action, and council could pay the amount if they wanted. A vote was taken on the motion and Arnold asked to be excused from voting, saying he didn't know enough about the matter to vote intelligently. He was excused and the motion carried. McHenry voting no. A resolution was passed authorizing the payment to the church of $110.

THE SCARLET WOMEN.

She is the Gateway That Leads to Sorrow, Shame, Disgrace, Disaster and Death.

Young men and women of this city are treading the pathway which leads to awful sorrow, sin, shame, disgrace and terrible suffering, even on this earth. The scarlet woman is a curse second only to that of the gin mill and rum hole, better known as the saloon. She is part and parcel of the latter, however, as they almost invariably go hand in hand, twin devils in the employ of the boss of hades. One of these scarlet women continues to ply her nefarious traffic on Walnut street, and she has already cursed the lives of young men and young women of East Liverpool. Two young printers, of this city, mere boys, are in the clutches of this fiend, and have become very reckless and bold in their visits to her den of iniquity. One of the couple designated had a very bad scare a few years since, when he was involved in a shameful proceeding, which, if mercy had not been shown him, would have banished him forever from East Liverpool. He should have common sense enough to remember the bitterness of his situation at that time, and act as if he is not lost to all sense of decency. The other youngster aspires to mingle with decent society and calls himself a gentleman. He would better call a halt on his present course, as the house in question has justly acquired a very unsavory reputation, and the neighbors have decided that forbearance has ceased to be a virtue, and the scarlet woman and her visitors may find lodgment in the city lockup, when names will be given in full in these columns.

A HANNA GATHERING.

The Ohio Convention Enthusiastic Over His Presence.

BUSINESS WAS RESUMED TODAY.

The Cleveland Senator Made a Keynote Speech, as Did Temporary Chairman Nevin—Prayer by President Thompson of the Ohio State University.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—The Republican state convention reconvened today.

A great administration demonstration occurred yesterday. Usually there is only one keynote speech, that of the temporary chairman, but there were two, and the one that caused more comment than any other convention speech in the history of the Ohio Republicans was by Senator Hanna. It was very much of a Hanna day, without dissenting or discordant notes. The senator arrived early in the morning and was engaged all the forenoon in receiving visitors. Several delegations called on him in a body, and he responded in short speeches. At the district meetings in the afternoon his friends were selected on the new state committee and all other committees. When Senator Hanna entered the convention hall there was a great demonstration and he was forced to bow acknowledgments from the platform.

With two keynote speeches and other proceedings there was no reference at any time to the currency, the tariff or any former issues. After prayer by Dr. W. C. Thompson, president of Ohio State university, State Chairman Myron A. Norris, of Youngstown, in calling the convention to order, made quite an address, but there was no reference to old issues. Then Hon. Robert M. Nevin was introduced as the temporary chairman, and he made a decisive hit in his forcible delivery, and especially in the peculiar emphasis he put on the words "as an admiral," in referring to Dewey.

The Hon. R. H. Nevin, temporary chairman, said in part:

"Ohio's gifted son, William McKinley, was triumphantly elected, and every promise that has been made by the national convention in St. Louis has, throughout this administration, been loyally fulfilled."

After referring to the war with Spain and the treaty of Paris and the acquisition of the Philippines, he said in part concerning the latter:

"I cannot understand how any man born and raised in the United States of America, familiar with the spirit of our people, governed by its institutions, reared under our flag, can believe for one instant that any administration that ever could be elected could, or would dare do anything except that which would lead to the peace and the happiness and the prosperity of this people. Nor can I conceive how any man who was born under the flag and who has one drop of American blood in his veins could say that we should haul down our flag and withdraw our soldiers from the Philippine islands so long as there is one man in armed rebellion, or so long as there is a single individual in all the islands in open resistance to the government and to the flag."

Adverting to the Porto Rico tariff bill he said in part:

"I know there have been some differences of opinion in our ranks as to the tariff part of this measure, some sentiment as to the constitution following the flag, but I believe that when the conditions and the wants and the needs of the people are considered, these differences will pass away. We must remember that on that little island there are almost 1,000,000 people, 90 per cent of them illiterate, unable to read or write and entirely unlearned in the ways and arts of government, and utterly unfitted at this time to govern themselves."

"It is expected by this measure that enough revenue will be secured to pay the expenses and in due time to educate and bring the people up to our own standard of citizenship, and then we will incorporate them into our own union as full-grown citizens."

After referring to the prosperity of the country, and the expansion of its trade, he continued:

"And why change this? And for what? Has there been anything in the past of the Democratic party that would warrant it being placed in power? Has it changed any since it had power? Has it changed since 1860? Does it not still, through its mouthpiece and its leader, insist upon the Chicago platform?"

Senator Hanna said in part:

"As your chairman has said, the Republicans of Ohio and the Republicans of the United States are confronted today with many new propositions and issues, thrown around us like tangled grass in our pathway, by the Democratic party attempting to raise new issues upon every move of policy made by the government, seeking some issues, some opportunity, to manifest their opposition to the policy of the Republican party."

"I say to you of the hour is one of absolute fear, not of the part of the Republican party. We are anxious, as your chairman has said, of having fulfilled every promise made. We took the country into our hands, and under our care for four years of the greatest vicissitudes, in which we have ever passed in our history. At our convention in St. Louis we adopted the policy and the doctrine of the Republican party upon which had been built the material interests of twenty odd years. We promised such reforms and economic measures as would produce material benefits to the country, and went further and said we will go beyond even the ideals of our fathers in the great results which must come from the perpetuation of such a policy. The best evidence of that policy is in what we have accomplished and achieved as affecting the material interests of this country. Your chairman made some statements with reference to the growth of export trade. Why, he did not state half of it.

The balance of net trade, in favor of the United States during the last century preceding this administration amounted to $311,000,000. In 100 years that was the net balance to the credit of the United States in our trade with the world. In three years of the administration of President William McKinley the net balance, as shown by the books of the United States treasury, is $1,400,000,000. Great applause and cries of "Good!" It is $1,000,000,000 more accomplished in those three years than had been accomplished in 100 years preceding. And then, looking into the fact of such results, repeat your chairman's words, 'Do we want a change?'

Do we want any different business combinations for us? Do we want any different policy for the American people than that which is building up and making the greatest, the richest and the strongest nation on earth? The laws of commerce, regulated by the best economic measures, are as infallible as the laws of nature. We have proved to this country and to the world that our policy of economics is irresistible and must succeed, and, in the few years of trial that we have had under this administration we have proved that, in the ratio of progress, every year looking ahead to our enormous wealth and gain, we shall be made stronger and be given far better and wider opportunities to do good in the march of Christianity and civilization of the world.

"The results of the war with Spain are not accidental. The destiny which has been written for this country must be fulfilled in the natural order of things. It was but one step forward in the direction of the duty set for us to do, and no matter what influences may be thrown around us to impede our progress, it can not and will not stop. [Renewed cheering.]

"I do not care whether you call it imperialism or expansion. The destiny of this country is written, and any party or combination of men that attempts, by any subterfuge or makeshift in politics, to stop the power and progress of this nation, will go down under it just as the Democratic party has gone down. [Renewed cheering.] We are proud of our record; we are proud of our business experience, and we are glad to have had the opportunity to demonstrate to the world that the policy and business principles of the American people meant the civilization and Christianization of the whole world. [Tremendous cheering.] It is that success in material things which gives us that opportunity and makes it possible to accomplish these great results.

"Now that we are embarking in this new policy, and now that this government is confronted with the responsibilities which are upon us, we ask the Republican party in Ohio, as we did four years ago, to sound the keynote to the balance of the union; to express her confidence in her great leader, our president. [More cheering.] To show by the interest they take, and the efforts they make in this campaign, their confidence in that leadership, in their determination to stand loyally by him and his policy. [Renewed cheering.]

"His courage during all the dark days of that war and many complications which succeeded it has never failed for one moment. And I want to improve this opportunity to say in this presence that there never has been an hour, not a moment, that he has not been in touch with his party in Washington. [Renewed cheering.] The consciousness that he is prepared for and is meeting every difficulty, determined to do what seems best and right for the people in our insular possessions, at the same time maintaining the dignity and prestige of our country and protecting our labor and our industries—that feeling that he is doing right—has enabled him to call to his support that aid which always comes to a strong leader of men, and, no matter what collateral issues may be arranged in the coming campaign, I know that the people of the United States feel comfortable and confident when they know that William McKinley is at the head. [Tremendous cheering.]

"I say, my fellow-Republicans, that we want to commence to do business, and the spirit and harmony which pervade this convention is a good augury that we will work together in this campaign shoulder to shoulder for a common cause, forgetting all individual contests, and lend ourselves to one great united effort to put the Republican party of the state of Ohio where it always is—to the front (more cheering), and through the campaign to maintain that position as an example to the whole country. Let us commence now, as soon as the duties of this convention are over, to make our organization, as we always do, perfect, forgetting, as I said, all differences, but looking to the common end and the success of the whole party, placing us in such a position that, whatever faltering and indecision there may be in other sections of the country, Ohio will stand, as she always does, in a solid phalanx in the front of the fight. [Long and continued cheering.]

As soon as order was restored, Chairman Nevin read the following telegram from Senator Foraker:

"To the Republicans of Ohio:

"On account of the action of the insular committee in reporting an amendment to the senate resolutions, continuing present officials in Porto Rico until Aug. 1 next, which it is expected will be adopted today and come to the senate tomorrow, it is impossible for me to leave here, as you will well understand and appreciate. Please kindly excuse my absence to the convention and express my regret that I am denied the pleasure of joining with the Republicans of Ohio in the important but agreeable work of organizing for the renomination of William McKinley and his triumphant election."

The new state central committee was announced, as follows:

THE PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS.

Their Convention Met at Harrisburg To-day—Probable Delegates to Philadelphia.

HARRISBURG, April 25.—The Republican state convention met here today to nominate candidates for auditor general, congressmen-at-large and thirty-two presidential electors (four at large), and to choose eight delegates and eight alternates-at-large to the national convention at Philadelphia.

Senator E. B. Hardenbergh, of Wayne county, has no opposition for auditor general, and he will probably be the unanimous choice of the convention. The candidates for congressmen-at-large, two to be nominated, are Galusha A. Grow, of Susquehanna county, the incumbent; Robert H. Forde, of Philadelphia; Dr. Theodore L. Flood, of Meadville; ex-Congressman William C. Arnold, of Meadville, and John B. Steel, of Greensburg. All the candidates are on the ground, conducting an active canvass. The probable delegates-at-large are M. S. Quay, of Beaver; Governor W. A. Stone, of Allegheny; Attorney General John P. Elkin, Indiana; State Chairman Frank Reeder, Easton; ex-Congressman John S. Leisenring, Wilkesbarre; B. W. Green, Emporium; ex-Senator Charles A. Porter and James Elverson, Philadelphia.

Congressman William Connell, of Scranton, is advocating the adoption of a resolution by the convention pledging the delegation to Postmaster General Emory Smith for vice president. The indications are that the convention will be a very quiet and harmonious gathering, and that its business will be transacted in a few hours.

PRESIDENT IN CLEVELAND.

Visiting His Sisters Today—Visited Graves of Dead Relatives in Canton.

CLEVELAND, April 25.—President McKinley is here today, visiting his sisters, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Helen McKinley. He will return to Canton tonight.

CANTON, April 25.—The president and wife yesterday went to the cemetery to the graves of their relatives.

On returning from the cemetery President McKinley paid a visit to Judge Day and Postmaster Frease. He also visited during the day his business and office block and met his tenants. The evening was quickly passed at the Barber home. Scores of old neighbors and friends called to pay their respects.

The president and party will leave Canton at 4 o'clock Thursday evening for Washington via the Pennsylvania railroad.

FENIANS NOT SUSPECTED.

United States Consul Reports Again on Welland Canal Explosion.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The latest report from the United States consul at Clifton, Canada, respecting the Welland canal outrages goes to exonerate what are known in Canada as Fenians from complicity in the attempt to blow up the lock and disable the canal.

The grain handlers of Buffalo also being given a certificate of good character, the actual movers in the affair must remain a mystery, according to the consul, unless the examination of the three men now held under arrest in Canada for the crime shall throw light upon the affair.

A Warning to the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25.—The porte has received telegrams from the Turkish minister at Washington, Ali Ferrouh Bey, pointing out the bad impression created in the United States by the non-payment of the indemnity due and announcing the determination of the American government to insist upon a prompt settlement of the claims.

NO SEAT FOR QUAY.

Senate Denied Him the Right by Vote of 33 to 32

VEST VOTES AGAINST HIS FRIEND.

The Missouri Senator Dashed the Last Hope of the Friends of the Pennsylvanian—Pettigrew Failed to Vote—Chandler and Daniel Spoke for Quay.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Hon. Matthew Quay was refused a seat in the United States senate on the appointment of the governor of Pennsylvania by a vote of 33 to 32. The entire time of the senate was devoted to debate on the question, many of the greatest lawyers and orators in the body delivering speeches. As the day's session wore on and the hour for the final vote approached, the galleries gradually filled until they were thronged with multitudes, while other multitudes were unable to gain admission. On the door of the senate was every member of the body now in the city and scores of members of the house of representatives. The great throng listened with deep attention to the brilliant argument of Mr. Spooner in favor of the seating of the former Pennsylvania senator, and to the dramatic and fiery eloquence of Mr. Daniel (Va.), who appealed to his colleagues to do what, on his oath as a senator, he deemed right, and vote to do justice to him who was knocking at the senate doors.

As the big clock opposite the president pro tempore indicated the hour for the vote there was a hush in the chamber. Mr. Frye, in the chair, announced that the hour for the final vote had arrived, and that the question was the pending motion of Mr. Chandler to strike out of the resolution declaring Mr. Quay not to be entitled to a seat, the word "not." Senators throughout the chamber eagerly followed the roll call, for all knew the vote would be close. The first sensation was caused by the failure of Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) to answer to his name, although he was in his seat. When Mr. Vest's name was called he voted "no" in a clear, distinct voice, thus dashes the last hope of the friends of Mr. Quay, who had expected confidently that the distinguished Missourian would vote for his long time personal friend. In perfect silence it was announced that the senate had denied to Mr. Quay the seat which he had sought for some months past.

The vote on Mr. Chandler's motion was as follows:

Yeas—Allison, Baker, Carter, Chandler, Clark (Wyo.), Cullom, Daniel, Davis, Deboe, Foraker, Frye, Gear, Hinsbrough, Jones (Nev.), McComas, McLaurin, Mason, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt (N. Y.), Scott, Sewell, Shoup, Spooner, Stewart, Sullivan, Tahaferro, Warren, Wetmore, Wolcott—32.

Nays—Allen, Bacon, Bard, Bate, Berry, Burrows, Butler, Clay, Cockrell, Culberson, Hale, Harris, Heitfeld, Hawley, Jones (Ark.), Lindsay, McBride, McChmber, McEnergy, McMillan, Martin, Money, Platt (Conn.), Proctor, Charles, Ross, Simon, Teller, Tillman, Turley, Turner, Vest, Wellington—32.

Pairs were announced as follows, the first named in each instance being favorable to Mr. Quay and the second opposed to him: Pritchard with Gallingher, Depew with Hanna, Foster with Kean, Lodge with Thurston, Kenney with Caffery, Elkins with Chilton, Fairbanks with Mallory, Hoar with Pettus and Kyle with Rawlins.

The following senators were unpaired: Aldrich, Beveridge, Clark (Mon.) and Pettigrew.

STOPPED THE CONCERTS.

Queen Shows Respect for Duke of Argyll's Memory—She Visited a Hospital.

DUBLIN, April 25.—The queen and the princesses during their drive visited the Mater Misericordiae hospital, where the mother superior and various sisters were presented to her majesty. A further stop was made at the Royal Masonic institute.

The queen returned to the vice regal lodge amid many scenes of enthusiasm.

Owing to the death of the Duke of Argyll her majesty has ordered the concerts at the vice regal lodge to be discontinued.

Too Long to Wait.

"If that's your game," replied the tailor, "the clothes will not be done at all."—Indianapolis Journal.

WOMEN AND MISSIONS.

A Feature of the Ecumenical Conference.

AN INCREASE IN THE ATTENDANCE.

Evangelistic Labors Considered at One Meeting. Bishop Thoburn Speaking On the Subject—A Number of Addressed at the Different Gatherings.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There was a noticeable increase in attendance when the Ecumenical Conference began its session with simultaneous meetings in Carnegie hall and three churches. Evangelistic work was the subject discussed at Carnegie hall, while at the Central Presbyterian church, Calvary Baptist church and the Madison Avenue Reformed church sectional meetings were held on woman's work.

The devotional service at Carnegie hall was opened by the Rev. Dr. A. S. Leonard, the corresponding secretary of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Leonard was followed by the Rev. J. W. Butler, of Mexico, who offered a short prayer, as did Bishop E. H. Hendrix, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The prayers were interspersed with hymns and remarks from the delegates.

The service of the conference at Carnegie hall was begun by Bishop E. G. Andrews, of New York, who made a brief address. Bishop J. M. Thoburn, of India, then delivered an address on the subject of the "Character and Importance of Evangelistic Work and the Conditions for Success." Then followed a symposium on evangelistic work, in which the Rev. Dr. W. F. Oldham, of Malaya, spoke on "The Manner and Form of Presenting the Gospel to Non-Christian People so Far as to Persuade and Win." H. L. Gordon, M. D., D. D., who has for many years been conducting evangelistic work in Japan, spoke on "The Best Methods of Personal Dealing With the Unconverted and Inquirers." The Rev. Dr. Henry B. Richards and the Rev. Dr. J. Taylor Hamilton spoke on "The General Pervasive Influence of Christianity."

Following these addresses there was a discussion of the different topics by the delegates.

The session at Calvary Baptist church was devoted to a woman's meeting, the principal topic under discussion being evangelistic work.

The subjects were "How to Present the Christian Truth to Women and Children," "The Work of Native Christians" and "General Evangelistic Work on Behalf of Women." The speakers were Miss Jennie Duncan, of India; Miss Alice E. Doton, of Japan, and Miss E. Baskerville, of India.

At the Central Presbyterian church another meeting of women in the interest of educational work was being held, the topics discussed were "Kindergartens," "Common and Village Schools," "Higher Education for Women" and "Training of Bible Women." Among the speakers were Mrs. Irene Barnes, of London; Miss Isabella Thoburn, of India; Miss F. L. Baldwin, of China; Mrs. T. M. McNair, of Japan, and Mrs. J. W. Francis, of Indianapolis.

At the Madison Avenue Reformed church a meeting was held, at which the general topic under discussion was "Giving." The topic was divided under these heads:

"Giving, One of the Foundation Stones of Missionary Work;" "The Doctrine of Giving;" "The Relation of Money to Salvation;" "Facts and Figures;" "Hearts and Influence;" "Time and Talents;" "Missions and Money;" "Woman's View Point of and Business Methods;" "Systematic and Proportionate Giving" and "Prayer and Gift."

Among those who spoke were Mrs. J. H. Knowles, of New York; Mrs. F. C. Hayes, of Minnesota; Mrs. A. L. Frisbie, of Des Moines; Mrs. B. M. Campbell, of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Schaefer, of Toledo; Mrs. E. M. Sprong, of Cleveland; M. A. Huntington Miller, of Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. W. F. Windgate, of Chicago; Mrs. E. C. Armstrong, of Center Valley, Ind., and Mrs. J. H. Randall, of St. Paul, Ind.

At the woman's meeting, at the Central Presbyterian church, the discussion on "The Systematic Study of Missions Among the Local Societies In This Country" was opened by Miss A. B. Child, secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston. An animated debate followed.

A uniform scheme for all woman's organizations was presented by Miss E. Harriet Stanwood, of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston.

▲ Vigorous Attack on Baltimore & Ohio and Reading—Dealing in Steel Industrials Large.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There were indications of some large operations on the Stock exchange Tuesday, and the market seemed to be under manipulation for the purpose of facilitating them. Monday's late show of strength found a response in the London market Tuesday morning, and prices of Americans were well advanced since the opening here. London bought quite freely in this market, after trading commenced. But it quickly became manifest that Monday's rally in prices had been largely due to the demand from the short interest. After the opening spurt buying quickly fell off and prices fell back, while the market became very dull.

The vigorous attack on Baltimore and Ohio and Reading first preferred caused declines of 3½ and 3½ respectively, and broke the whole list quite sharply. But at the decline very large buying developed again for both accounts, all offerings being freely absorbed apparently with no desire to advance prices. Feverishness in Sugar and one or two elapses elsewhere gave a slightly irregular tone, but the closing was generally firm and at small net changes in the majority of stocks.

Dealing in the steel industrials continued large, but the price movements were unsensational and the net changes small. The short interest continued to cover in the group on a large scale. The bears made much of the prospects of gold exports, although the sterling exchange rate, after an early advance, became somewhat unsteady.

Notwithstanding the prevailing ease of money rates here, the surplus reserves of New York banks are lower than usual at this period of the year, and the use of money continues active in the interior. The present supply to the market from the sub-treasury on account of payments of bond premiums cannot continue indefinitely. Should it be interrupted while gold exports are making inroads upon the surplus of the banks the effect on money rates would necessarily be promptly shown.

Western New York and Pennsylvania 2s rose 4½ and then reacted 2. The bond market generally was rather weak. Total sales, par value, $2,390,000.

United States refunding 2s, when issued, the 3s and old 4s declined 1½ in the bid price.

BOERS' POSITION TURNED.

Brabant and Hart Succeeded in Getting in Communication With Wepener.

LONDON, April 25.—The war office issued the following from Lord Roberts: BLOEMFONTEIN, April 24.—Generals Brabant and Hart yesterday turned the position occupied by the enemy, who tried to prevent their moving northward, and got into heliograph communication with Colonel Dahlgety, commandant of the besieged garrison at Wepener, who reported all well.

General Brabant has three wounded, one missing. Three were wounded on the previous day. The Border regiment had seven wounded.

At 1 p. m. yesterday Brabant and Hart were eight miles south of Wepener. The Eleventh division, under General Pole-Carew, and General French's two brigades of cavalry reached Tweed's Coluk yesterday afternoon without having met serious opposition.

THE FIEND OF NERVOUSNESS.

When a woman's mind is constantly filled with nervous unreasoning dread and apprehension it shows that her entire nervous system is disordered and broken down. Nine times in ten it indicates that there is some special disease or weakness of the important and delicate organs which make her a woman. Nine times in ten it means that some instant and radical measures must be taken to save her from complete mental and physical wreck.

"I was so nervous I couldn't bear to hear the sound of my own voice when alone," says Mrs. Nellie Brittenham, of Davenport, Thayer Co., Nebr. "I felt as though there was some one ready to grab me if the least sound was made. I really cannot describe the feelings I had, but I can say I have no such ugly feelings now and I trust I never may again. I was suffering from female weakness and very much from nervous prostration.

"I was not able to do anything. I could not sit up all day. I had not sat up all day since the birth of my baby, four months before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took one doctor's medicine for four months but did not get along at all, so, discouraged, I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of the 'Prescription' and nine of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets along with the other medicines, and I can say they have done wonders for me.

"I do all my work now and feel better than for two years. I had not eaten anything for three months except some kind of soup and crackers; now I eat anything I want. I believe I owe my health to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Discouraged, broken-down women should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., and learn how carefully he studies into these apparently hopeless cases. He will send without charge, (in a plain sealed envelope) the best advice of a capable, experienced physician.

The Rogue Saved the Judge.

A judge of the English high court was once arrested on suspicion of having burglarious designs on the house of a friend in Mayfair. The police officer charged him in the police station with loitering with felonious intent, and the prisoner's description of himself as one of her majesty's judges was received with a grin of sarcastic derision.

At that moment an old offender was brought in who happened to catch sight of his lordship's face, which he had good reason to remember.

"You here, my lord?" he exclaimed, with unfeigned astonishment. "Well, this beats cockfighting."

The rogue's unsolicited corroboration of the judge's declaration saved the situation, and his lordship was allowed to depart in peace.

Our Debt to the Barn Fowl.

It is quite possible, though of course not demonstrable, that the humble barn fowl has been a larger benefactor of our race than any mechanical invention in our possession, for there is no inhabited country on earth today where the barn fowl is not a mainstay of health. There are vast regions of South America and Europe where it is the mainstay, and nowhere is there known anything that can take its place, which is probably more than can be said of anything in the world of mechanics.—Century.

TWO CENTS

DEBS PROVES AN ELOQUENT TALKER

His Lecture on "Labor and Liberty" Heard by a Fair Audience Last Night.

SOCIALISM IS HIS REMEDY

For All the Industrial Troubles of the Present Competitive System.

TRUSTS A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Eugene V. Debs' lecture on "Labor and Liberty" at the opera house last night under the auspices of Trades and Labor council, was not as well attended as had been expected. J. J. Weisend presided, and the presidents of the local unions acted as vice presidents.

Briefly commending organized labor, Mr. Debs began his address by saying that he would not appeal to the passions of his audience, but rather to their reason.

Centralization and combination, he said, were lowering the lower classes and driving the middle classes into bankruptcy. Private property was considered more valuable under the present competitive system than human life. The trusts shut down their mills to prevent overproduction and to protect the prices of their products. The value of products was maintained by lowering the value of men.

Deprive man of tools and he will lapse into savagery. When tools were primitive the skill was in the man and a trade had to be learned by long apprenticeship. Now the skill is in the machine. Machinery has made man a specialized worker, instead of a tradesman. Man no longer learns to make a complete article, but only a small part of an article.

The tendency was to secure cheaper production. Mr. Debs said wages were never lower than now. Wages should be measured by the worker's power of production. By machinery workers produce from 10 to 20 times as much as he could 50 years ago, but the more perfect machinery becomes the lower wages go.

Today machines make shoes, but they cannot wear them; but on the other hand diminish consumption by depriving workers of the means of buying shoes. We consequently hear of overproduction of shoes, while there are millions who need shoes. Machinery is all right, but the worker fails to get his share of the profit. There is no hand work today. The machine comes in where it takes two men to do a job and makes a slave of one and a tramp of the other. "I sympathize with the tramp; first, because he is the victim of our social system; second, because, if this system continues, I may become a tramp myself." Men are thrown out of employment, start on the never-ending journey to find a job, finally become tramps. Fifty years ago there were no tramps.

Society is no better than its most degenerate member, as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link. Idle men must be supported by society and idleness leads to crime.

Our system is a competitive one. Man, employer or employee, buys where he can buy cheapest. He never thinks of the sweat shop back of the cheapness.

The man who has amassed the largest fortune has destroyed the largest number of his fellow men.

Mr. Debs predicted a greater panic than those of '73 and '93 in the near future. He also said there would be no war in either South Africa or the Philippines if these countries were not commercially valuable.

Speaking of trusts he said the trust is not an evil, but a blessing in disguise. Instead of being owned by a few people, it should be owned by all the people. Honesty in business today he said, was impossible. The best man failed in business.

Private ownership caused all the mischief. If all the directors of the big railroads were to die today trains would still run on time. But if the 850,000 railroad workers stopped, traffic would cease. Socialism, the collective ownership of the means of production, was the remedy.

COLDEN FELL.

A Resident of Shadyside Avenue Had an Accident Yesterday.

John Golden, residing on Shadyside avenue, fell over an embankment near his home yesterday and was seriously injured. He was working alone in a stone quarry about 100 yards from his home, and in some manner missed his footing and fell over the embankment, a distance of about 20 feet. He was found by his wife about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in an unconscious condition and was removed to his home and a physician summoned. In falling his back was severely injured and his forehead was cut above the right eye.

THE FIRST CASE.

Howard Foutts Plead Guilty Before Justice McLane for Ill Treating a Horse.

Humane Officer Miller last evening had his first case since his appointment. Miss Martha Porter filed an affidavit in the court of Justice McLane, charging Howard Foutts with ill treating a horse. Foutts entered a plea of guilty and arranged to pay $5 and costs.

Humane Officer Miller has not in the least abated the strictness with which he is fulfilling the duties of his office. Last night two young men from the country, who had left their horse standing from 5 o'clock to 8, were notified that they would have to have the animal put up or he would take care of it.

Robinson Street.

Last night at council Peach called attention to the fact that a petition had been filed several years ago asking that Robinson street be graded and paved between Broadway and Walnut street. The street committee will look after the matter.

EXTRA POLICE RECOMMENDED

The Police Committee Made Some Suggestions In Their Report Presented Last Night.

COUNCIL TOOK NO ACTION

Except to Refer the Whole Thing to the Finance Committee For Investigation.

SOME CHANGES IN THE RULES.

At the meeting of council last night the police committee recommended the adoption of a few changes in the police rules. The report presented was as follows:

"The police committee after careful consideration of the rules governing the police force of East Liverpool, O., submit the following report and recommend that the city council concur with them in order that we may make a more efficient force and procure for the city the proper protection desired:

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 1 that it read "not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height."

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 12 that the policemen shall be permitted to wear a sack coat from May 1 to Sept. 1, but they shall be required to furnish themselves with suits as required by this rule.

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 19 that the latter clause shall read as follows: 'This rule shall not be construed as to prohibit the entering of the aforesaid premises for the purpose of general observation, or upon a suspicion that unlawfully disposed persons or lawbreakers are harbored therein.' The rule as it now stands prevents an officer from entering the saloon unless he is called upon and the new committee seek to remedy this in their amendment.

"We further recommend the addition of two regular policemen and also of two extra policemen, one to be located in the East End and one in the West End of the city from 6 p. m. to 12 p. m. every night and shall stand in line of promotion to the regular force in case of any vacancy that may arise.

"We further recommend that the mayor's office be repapered and the woodwork repainted and that a new carpet be purchased for the mayor's private office room."

The committee closed their report by stating that they had inspected the new cells and suggested that the work be finished. They also reported that the department needed eight belts and clubs, eight pair of nippers, five police stars, seven helmets, one regulation cap, one pair of handcuffs and one pistol pocket.

Peach stated that he thought the suggestions were all right, but he would like to know where the money was coming from to pay the new men. He said it was an easy matter to recommend, but another thing to provide money, and the finance question was a vital one for the council to wrestle with. He moved the matter go to the finance committee. Nice couldn't see why all the report should go to the finance committee and said the committee had considered the extra expense before they made up the report. He said the people in the suburban districts would have to have more police protection after the new street car lines were built. The report went to the finance committee, but McLane and Nice voted no on the motion.

GRIM AND WHAN WANT THE CASH

Council Spent Some Time Last Night Discussing the Worn Out Question.

GASTON WANTED TO KNOW

If Council Intended to Fight the Claims So He Could Act Accordingly.

WILL PREPARE AN OPINION.

The Grim and Whan bills had another inning at council last night, and a council meeting without them would seem strange.

The matter was called up by Clerk Hanley, who said he did it at the request of the attorney for the ex-officer.

Smith opened the debate by asking if the cases were not in court at the present time, as he had understood that they had been carried up. If the court said pay them all right, but he didn't think they ought to be paid before that time.

Marshall said if council intended to fight the claims it was necessary to give Solicitor Gaston some instruction.

Cripps said the parties got a judgment in the local court and he thought spite work was at the bottom of the action of the old solicitor in carrying the cases up. He said he understood council voted at one time to pay the bills.

Smith said council never voted to pay the bills and if the case had been carried up by the solicitor council should take no action in the matter.

Peach said the bills had been legally placed on the pay roll at one time by a vote of five to three, but it was then understood that it took six members to pass the pay roll when it only took a majority and the ruling of the chair kept them off the pay roll.

Marshall said that question was a matter of small importance and the question to be decided now was whether council wished to fight the bills, as an answer had to be filed before the next meeting of council.

Solicitor Gaston said he could have the cases dismissed at any time as far as the city was concerned, but if council wanted him to go ahead and fight them he must have some instructions.

Marshall said the matter should have been settled by the old council, and McHenry said he understood the old solicitor agreed to fight the cases at his own expense. Peach replied that he wouldn't do it, and Solicitor Gaston was asked for an opinion on the cases. He hadn't any and Nice remarked that if the solicitor didn't know anything about the case how were the new members of council expected to vote on the matter intelligently. He expressed an opinion that the matter should have been settled by the old council.

Gaston said he wasn't supposed to know anything about the cases, but that he could let the cases go by default and get permission from the court and file his answer later and in the meantime give council an opinion on the cases.

This suited all the councilmen, and the matter was ended for the steenth time.

THE CITY WILL GET INJUNCTION

Solicitor Gaston Instructed by Council to Commence an Action Against

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

And Compel Them to Get the East End Station Off the Property of the City.

MR. PEACH MADE A SPEECH

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will have to get off the city property in East End or fight a case in court, as council last night ordered Solicitor Gaston to take out an injunction preventing them from completing the station, which they are building in that part of the city.

The matter was called up in council by Peach, who said the company was well aware that the station was being built on an alley, as it had been notified and promised to stop, but had resumed the work. He said: "If the Pennsylvania company is going to take charge of the city of East Liverpool then we had better step down and out. A member of council has been working on that building, knowing that the law was being violated. I move that an injunction be taken out at once." Fisher seconded the motion and then McHenry stated that he didn't believe the city had an alley where the company was building the station, as he didn't believe the ground had ever been accepted by council. He closed by saying that he was in the contracting business and if the Pennsylvania Railroad company or any person else wanted a building put up on the public highway that was his business.

The matter was looked up and was found that the plat had been accepted some time ago and the station is on city property. The motion carried and McHenry closed the incident with the remark that it would be a long time before a station was built in the East End.

LIGHT FRANCHISE.

It Will Come Up at the Next Meeting.
Copies to Be Printed.

At the meeting of council last night Smith called attention to the fact that there was a light franchise to be disposed of and made a suggestion that the clerk have several copies of the ordinance printed and presented to the members of council so that they might be thoroughly acquainted with the ordinance before they voted. Marshall remarked that the ordinance died with the last council. Smith said it would come up again and the clerk will have copies printed.

Pennsylvania Avenue Paving.

A petition was introduced in council last night asking that Pennsylvania avenue be paved from Sugar to Vine street. The petition was referred to the street committee and President Marshall remarked that hereafter all petitions of the kind must have the endorsement of the street committee before council would take action on them.

The men and dog came down the hill road by the brick yard, turned down Pennsylvania avenue and then into Virginia avenue. The dog ran to the railroad and the last seen of it was while it was passing the flint mill. The men said the animal was mad.

It is not at all probable that the proposed brush factory will be built in this part of the city if current reports be true. A person who has held several conferences with representatives of the new company stated yesterday that the Pittsburg concern wanted too much. It is said that the company want a site, a bonus of $2,000 and that stock to the amount of $15,000 be held by Liverpool people. HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

Clerk Hanley Put Council Next to a Good Thing and They Will Follow His Advice.

Last night at council Clerk Hanley called attention to the fact that on April 1, 1898, there was due $15,000 worth of bonds, on July 1 of this year $90,000 was due and in September $62,000 more were due. He said all the bonds were 5 per cent bonds and council could issue 4 per cent refunding bonds, get $2,000 or $3,000 premium and save $1,670 a year in interest. WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, Iowa, Dec. 14.
No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
MRS. GRACE LAMPERE.

McELREE's Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

THE VILE SHOWS CAUSED PROTEST

From the Women's Christian Temperance Union to Be Filed With Council.

SPOKE OF OTHER THINGS

But President Marshall Said Council Wasn't the Proper Place For Communications.

LEGISLATIVE, NOT EXECUTIVE

Council received the following communication at the meeting last night:

To the Mayor and Councilmen of the City of East Liverpool, in Common Council Assembled:

"Gentlemen — We, the Women's Christian Temperance Union of East Liverpool, protest against the State Purity law being violated in our city, by the vile shows being permitted in the opera house. Also our State Sunday Rest law is not enforced; we see candy, ice cream and cigar stores opened the last two Sabbaths, also back doors of saloons, men come out and in all day on Sunday. This is contrary to law.

"We, 74 representative women of our city demand that you see to it that these laws are enforced.

"Respectfully,

"THE W. C. T. U."

President Marshall suggested that the petition might be referred to Councilman Cripps or Mayor Davidson, but that it had no business in council. He said: "Council is not an executive body. Its duty is to make laws and not to enforce them. This council is simply a legislative body and does not propose to assume the responsibility for any of the acts of the executive department. That petition has no business here and if any action is to be taken let the parties send it to the proper parties."

THEY HAVE CASH.

Park Commission Furnished With $1,000 With Which to Start Work at the Park.

Professor W. L. Thompson explained to council last night that when the park was accepted they agreed to spend $2,000 on a driveway. He said the commission was now ready to go to work and that he had purchased trees and shrubbery, but that he couldn't have it planted to any advantage until after the driveway was completed. He asked for $1,000 for the expenses this year. The money was voted the commission without a dissenting vote.

SPLENDID OFFERING.

Raised by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist church at their recent thanks offering service made a splendid collection for foreign mission work. Envelopes had been sent out with the result that $75 were raised by that means and the members of the society immediately decided to raise the balance to make it an even $100 among themselves, which was done. The ladies are much pleased with the success of the effort.

ILLEGAL

SOLICITOR GASTON TOLD COUNCIL A FEW THINGS.

He Spoke on the Subject of the Improvement of Bradshaw Avenue Last Year.

Solicitor Gaston at the meeting of council last night called attention to the fact that he had been informed that the city had improved Bradshaw avenue in an illegal manner, and unless they undid some of the things they had done before the next meeting of council they would be enjoined from collecting some of the assessments. Peach wanted to know if the solicitor was representing the property owners or the city of East Liverpool, and in what way council had acted illegally. The solicitor replied that if he had been properly informed he thought the joining of the sewer and paving in one improvement was illegal; that the improvement cost over $5,000 and notice of the improvement should have been published in two newspapers for three weeks. This was not done. Then some of the property had been assessed over 25 per cent for the improvement. He gave these as a few reasons for thinking the affair had been illegal and closed his statement by saying he was representing the city and not the property holders.

DIDN'T CHANGE IT.

None of the Members of Council Fathered an Ordinance Introduced Last Night.

Last evening at council an ordinance was introduced amending the pawnbrokers' ordinance so that the license would be only $25 per year instead of $100. The ordinance wasn't signed and President Marshall asked if any councilman desired to affix his signature to it. None of them did and the ordinance didn't get a place in the business.

Hedleston Objected.

Hedleston wanted to know last night if there wasn't an ordinance prohibiting the placing of wagons on the city wharf. Marshall replied that there was, and it was his duty to see that the ordinance was enforced, as he was chairman of the wharf committee.

To Finance Committee.

Clerk Hanley reported at the meeting of council last night that he had the bonds of several of the city officers. They went to the finance committee without being read.

Bone-Ache Dis Rheumatism

A vast amount of pain can be avoided by treating rheumatism early.

Nature sends aches in the joints, pains and fever to warn of the approach of a rheumatic attack. The cause of the trouble is uric acid and other poisons in the system. TONGALINE taken in time averts the attack. It cuts short the disease by cleansing the system. No external application of an anodyne or lotion can do this.

The treatment must be internal to be effective. TONGALINE cures even the worst cases of rheumatism, cases of many years' standing which have resisted all other treatment. But it is always better to take TONGALINE to prevent than to cure.

DEBS' LECTURE.

Those who listened to E. V. Debs' lecture last night were privileged to enjoy listening to an eloquent speaker, who used clear, crisp, plain language, talked coherently and comprehensively and presented his side of the questions treated with great skill. Nevertheless it is not believed Mr. Debs made many, if any, converts to his views. The people of East Liverpool are enjoying prosperity too much to be in a receptive mood for socialistic doctrine.

TO BE APPROVED.

President Marshall seems to have a proper idea of how to transact the business of council. The News Review has repeatedly pointed out that a good deal of time, in fact most of the time of council, was taken up considering and discussing matters that should have been passed upon and reported by the committees of council instead of the whole body. The slip-shod, hap-hazard manner of doing business that has heretofore prevailed has resulted in inextricable confusion and delay in city business. By requiring some member or committee to father each matter that is brought before council there will be fewer social sessions during council meeting, less unnecessary talk and much more business transacted expeditiously and properly. The next thing for President Marshall to do is to fix a time for each committee to meet to attend to the business before it and then see that the committees meet as scheduled.

TRENTVALE STREET.

COUNCIL HAD AN INTERESTING DEBATE.

George Reported That the Money Was About Used Up and the Street Wasn't Completed.

Trentvale street came in for a part of the discussion at the meeting of council last night. The discussion was opened by a statement from Engineer George to the effect that the $6,000 had almost all been expended on the road. McHenry wanted the work stopped at once. Nice objected. Peach said they still had $1,000 to spend on the road. Marshall said if the street was not fit to leave when the money voted to be expended on it had been used, the engineer should be held responsible. George said he didn't propose to be held responsible for the street, as council insisted on commencing work at the wrong time of year and it wasn't his fault that the contractor had to work in mud. Marshall said an ordinance should be passed ordering a 12-foot roadway paved. The discussion ended by referring the matter to the street committee to prepare an ordinance and see that the grading is completed.

OUTLINED HIS PLANS.

MARSHALL TELLS HOW BUSINESS WILL BE DONE.

The Committees Will Have More Work to Do and the Whole Council Less.

President Marshall, at the meeting of council last night, remarked that he hoped the committees would do their duty, as it was his intention to have the work done in committees this year and that council would meet simply to ratify their actions. He said any recommendation involving the expenditure of money would hereafter be referred to the finance committee without debate and all street improvements would go to the street committee. He suggested that the light committee make a tour of the city after night and see where lights are needed.

Smith at once called attention to the fact that three lights are needed in the vicinity of Gardendale, and Peach wanted to know if Mr. Marshall considered himself, as president of council, a member of all the committees. Marshall replied that he did and would try to do his share of the work, to which Peach replied: "You have mapped out a big job for yourself. I'll tell you."

Pleasant Street.

Clerk Hanley reported at council last night that the estimate of the valuation of the property on Pleasant street which the residents want paved had been prepared. The matter was referred to the finance committee, together with the petition, but the street committee got the resolution to grade the street.

COLORED CHURCH GOT TWO HUNDRED

Council Took Action on a Damage Claim Presented Last Night.

THE SAME OLD QUESTION

As to Whether Council Could Legally Grant the Amount Was Discussed.

OPINION OF SOLICITOR GASTON.

Last night at council a communication was received from Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor of the African M. E. church, stating that his church had been damaged to the extent of $700 by the improvement to Grant street, but that they would be willing to settle for $200. Nice said he understood a former council had voted to pay the claim. Marshall stated that they had to back out of the agreement, as the solicitor had decided their action was not legal. Nice said he wanted some other opinion than that of the former solicitor and said the congregation was entitled to the money, and for that reason he moved it be paid to them minus the $90 they would be assessed for the street improvement.

Solicitor Gaston was asked for an opinion and said he was inclined to agree with the former solicitor that the action of the former council was not legal, but that the matter now came to them in the form of a damage claim and they could pay it, but the former council had no right to donate money to the congregation. McHenry wanted to know if the property was damaged and the solicitor replied that he hadn't seen the place, but whether they had or not would not affect the legality of the action, and council could pay the amount if they wanted. A vote was taken on the motion and Arnold asked to be excused from voting, saying he didn't know enough about the matter to vote intelligently. He was excused and the motion carried. McHenry voting no. A resolution was passed authorizing the payment to the church of $110.

THE SCARLET WOMEN.

She is the Gateway That Leads to Sorrow, Shame, Disgrace, Disaster and Death.

Young men and women of this city are treading the pathway which leads to awful sorrow, sin, shame, disgrace and terrible suffering, even on this earth. The scarlet woman is a curse second only to that of the gin mill and rum hole, better known as the saloon. She is part and parcel of the latter, however, as they almost invariably go hand in hand, twin devils in the employ of the boss of hades. One of these scarlet women continues to ply her nefarious traffic on Walnut street, and she has already cursed the lives of young men and young women of East Liverpool. Two young printers, of this city, mere boys, are in the clutches of this fiend, and have become very reckless and bold in their visits to her den of iniquity. One of the couple designated had a very bad scare a few years since, when he was involved in a shameful proceeding, which, if mercy had not been shown him, would have banished him forever from East Liverpool. He should have common sense enough to remember the bitterness of his situation at that time, and act as if he is not lost to all sense of decency. The other youngster aspires to mingle with decent society and calls himself a gentleman. He would better call a halt.

A HANNA GATHERING.

The Ohio Convention Enthusiastic Over His Presence.

BUSINESS WAS RESUMED TODAY.

The Cleveland Senator Made a Keynote Speech, as Did Temporary Chairman Nevin—Prayer by President Thompson on the Ohio State University.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—The Republican state convention reconvened today.

A great administration demonstration occurred yesterday. Usually there is only one keynote speech, that of the temporary chairman, but there were two, and the one that caused more comment than any other convention speech in the history of the Ohio Republicans was by Senator Hanna. It was very much of a Hanna day, without dissenting or discordant notes. The senator arrived early in the morning and was engaged all the forenoon in receiving visitors. Several delegations called on him in a body, and he responded in short speeches. At the district meetings in the afternoon his friends were selected on the new state committee and all other committees. When Senator Hanna entered the convention hall there was a great demonstration and he was forced to bow acknowledgments from the platform.

With two keynote speeches and other proceedings there was no reference at any time to the currency, the tariff or any former issues. After prayer by Dr. W. C. Thompson, president of Ohio State University, State Chairman Myron A. Norris, of Youngstown, in calling the convention to order, made quite an address, but there was no reference to old issues. Then Hon. Robert M. Nevin was introduced as the temporary chairman, and he made a decisive hit in his forcible delivery, and especially in the peculiar emphasis he put on the words "as an admiral," in referring to Dewey.

The Hon. R. H. Nevin, temporary chairman, said in part:

"Ohio's gifted son, William McKinley, was triumphantly elected, and every promise that has been made by the national convention in St. Louis has, throughout this administration, been loyally fulfilled."

After referring to the war with Spain and the treaty of Paris and the acquisition of the Philippines, he said in part concerning the latter:

"I cannot understand how any man born and raised in the United States of America, familiar with the spirit of our people, governed by its institutions, reared under our flag, can believe for one instant that any administration that ever could be elected could, or would dare do anything except that which would lead to the peace and the happiness and the prosperity of this people. Nor can I conceive how any man who was born under the flag and who has one drop of American blood in his veins could say that we should haul down our flag and withdraw our soldiers from the Philippine islands so long as there is one man in armed rebellion, or so long as there is a single individual in all the islands in open resistance to the government and to the flag."

Adverting to the Porto Rico tariff bill he said in part:

"I know there have been some differences of opinion in our ranks as to the tariff part of this measure, some sentiment as to the constitution following the flag, but I believe that when the conditions and the wants and the needs of the people are considered, these differences will pass away. We must remember that on that little island there are almost 1,000,000 people, 90 per cent of them illiterate, unable to read or write and entirely unlearned in the ways and arts of government, and utterly unfit at this time to govern themselves."

"It is expected by this measure that enough revenue will be secured to pay the expenses and in due time to educate and bring the people up to our own standard of citizenship, and then we will incorporate them into our own union as full-grown citizens."

After referring to the prosperity of the country, and the expansion of its trade, he continued:

"And why change this? And for what? Has there been anything in the past of the Democratic party that would warrant it being placed in power? Has it changed any since it had power? Has it changed since 1860? Does it not still, through its mouthpiece and its leader, insist upon the Chicago platform?"

Senator Hanna said in part:

"As your chairman has said, the Republicans of Ohio and the Republicans of the United States are confronted today with many new propositions and issues, thrown around us like tangled grass in our pathway, by the Democratic party attempting to raise new issues upon every move of policy made by the government, seeking some issues, some opportunity, to manifest their opposition to the policy of the Republican party."

"I say that the hour is one of absolute fear, and on the part of the Republicans. We have broken every promise made. We took the country into our hands, and under our control, for years of the greatest vicissitudes, in which we have ever passed in our history. At our convention in St. Louis we adopted the policy and the doctrine of the Democratic party upon which had been built the material interests of twenty odd years. We promised such reforms and economic measures as would produce material benefits to the country, and went further and said we will go beyond even the ideals of our fathers in the great results which must come from the perpetuation of such a policy. The best evidence of that policy is in what we have accomplished and achieved as affecting the material interests of this country. Your chairman made some statements with reference to the growth of export trade. Why, he did not state half of it."

The balance of net trade, in favor of the United States during the last century preceding this administration amounted to $311,000,000. In 100 years that was the net balance to the credit of the United States in our trade with the world. In three years of the administration of President William McKinley the net balance, as shown by the books of the United States treasury, is $1,400,000,000. [Great applause and cries of "Good."] It is $1,100,000,000 more accomplished in those three years than had been accomplished in 100 years preceding. And then, looking into the face of such results, I repeat your chairman's words, 'Do we want a change?'

Do we want any different business combinations for us? Do we want any different policy for the American people than that which is building up and making the greatest, the richest and the strongest nation on earth? The laws of commerce, regulated by the best economic measures, are as infallible as the laws of nature. We have proved to this country and to the world that our policy of economics is irresistible and must succeed, and, in the few years of trial that we have had under this administration we have proved that, in the ratio of progress, every year looking ahead to our enormous wealth and gain, we shall be made stronger and be given far better and wider opportunities to do good in the march of civilization and civilization of the world.

The results of the war with Spain are not accidental. The destiny which has been written for this country must be fulfilled in the natural order of things. It was but one step forward in the direction of the duty set for us to do, and no matter what influences may be thrown around us to impede our progress, it can not and will not stop. [Renewed cheering.]

I do not care whether you call it imperialism or expansion. The destiny of this country is written, and any party or combination of men that attempts, by any subterfuge or makeshift in politics, to stop the power and progress of this nation, will go down under it just as the Democratic party has gone down. [Renewed cheering.] We are proud of our record; we are proud of our business experience, and we are glad to have had the opportunity to demonstrate to the world that the policy and business principles of the American people meant the civilization and Christianization of the whole world. [Tremendous cheering.] It is that success in material things which gives us that opportunity and makes it possible to accomplish these great results.

Now that we are embarking in this new policy, and now that this government is confronted with the responsibilities which are upon us, we ask the Republican party in Ohio, as we did four years ago, to sound the keynote to the balance of the union; to express her confidence in her great leader, our president. [More cheering.] To show by the interest they take, and the efforts they make in this campaign, their confidence in that leadership, in their determination to stand loyally by him and his policy. [Renewed cheering.]

"His courage during all the dark days of that war and many complications which succeeded it has never failed for one moment. And I want to improve this opportunity to say in this presence that there never has been an hour, not a moment, that he has not been in touch with his party in Washington. [Renewed cheering.] The consciousness that he is prepared for and is meeting every difficulty, determined to do what seems best and right for the people in our insular possessions, at the same time maintaining the dignity and prestige of our country and protecting our labor and our industries—that feeling that he is doing right—has enabled him to call to his support that aid which always comes to a strong leader of men, and, no matter what collateral issues may be arranged in the coming campaign, I know that the people of the United States feel comfortable and confident when they know that William McKinley is at the wheel. [Tremendous cheering.]

"I say, my fellow-Republicans, that we want to commence to do business, and the spirit and harmony which pervade this convention is a good augury that we will work together in this campaign shoulder to shoulder for a common cause, forgetting all individual contests and lend ourselves to one great united effort to put the Republican party of the state of Ohio where it always is—to the front (more cheering), and through the campaign to maintain that position as an example to the whole country. Let us commence now, as soon as the duties of this convention are over, to make our organization, as we always do, perfect, forgetting, as I said, all differences, but looking to the common end and the success of the whole party, placing us in such a position that, whatever faltering and indecision there may be in other sections of the country, Ohio will stand, as she always does, in a solid phalanx in the front of the fight. [Long and continued cheering.]

As soon as order was restored, Chairman Nevin read the following telegram from Senator Foraker:

"To the Republicans of Ohio:

"On account of the action of the insular committee in reporting an amendment to the senate resolutions, continuing present officials in Porto Rico until Aug. 1 next, which it is expected will be adopted today and come to the senate tomorrow, it is impossible for me to leave here, as you will well understand and appreciate. Please kindly excuse my absence to the convention and express my regret that I am denied the pleasure of joining with the Republicans of Ohio in the important but agreeable work of organizing for the renomination of William McKinley and his triumphant election."

THE PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS.

Their Convention Met at Harrisburg Today—Probable Delegates to Philadelphia.

HARRISBURG, April 25.—The Republican state convention met here today to nominate candidates for auditor general, congressmen-at-large and thirty-two presidential electors (four at large), and to choose eight delegates and eight alternates-at-large to the national convention at Philadelphia.

Senator E. B. Harderbergh, of Wayne county, has no opposition for auditor general, and he will probably be the unanimous choice of the convention. The candidates for congressmen-at-large, two to be nominated, are Galusha A. Grow, of Susquehanna county, the incumbent; Robert H. Forde, of Philadelphia; Dr. Theodore L. Flood, of Meadville; ex-Congressman William C. Arnold, of Meadville, and John B. Steel, of Greensburg. All the candidates are on the ground, conducting an active canvass. The probable delegates-at-large are M. S. Quay, of Beaver; Governor W. A. Stone, of Allegheny; Attorney General John P. Elkin, Indiana; State Chairman Frank Reeder, Easton; ex-Congressman John S. Leisenring, Wilkesbarre; B. W. Green, Emporium; ex-Senator Charles A. Porter and James Elverson, Philadelphia.

Congressman William Connell, of Scranton, is advocating the adoption of a resolution by the convention pledging the delegation to Postmaster General Emory Smith for vice president. The indications are that the convention will be a very quiet and harmonious gathering, and that its business will be transacted in a few hours.

PRESIDENT IN CLEVELAND.

Visiting His Sisters Today—Visited Graves of Dead Relatives in Canton.

CLEVELAND, April 25.—President McKinley is here today, visiting his sisters, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Helen McKinley. He will return to Canton tonight.

CANTON, April 25.—The president and wife yesterday went to the cemetery to the graves of their relatives.

On returning from the cemetery President McKinley paid a visit to Judge Day and Postmaster Frease. He also visited during the day his business and office block and met his tenants. The evening was quickly passed at the Barber home. Scores of old neighbors and friends called to pay their respects.

The president and party will leave Canton at 4 o'clock Thursday evening for Washington via the Pennsylvania railroad.

FENIANS NOT SUSPECTED.

United States Consul Reports Again on Welland Canal Explosion.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The latest report from the United States consul at Clifton, Canada, respecting the Welland canal outrages goes to exonerate what are known in Canada as Fenians from complicity in the attempt to blow up the lock and disable the canal.

The grain handlers of Buffalo also being given a certificate of good character, the actual movers in the affair must remain a mystery, according to the consul, unless the examination of the three men now held under arrest in Canada for the crime shall throw light upon the affair.

A Warning to the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25.—The porte has received telegrams from the Turkish minister at Washington, Ali Ferrouh Bey, pointing out the bad impression created in the United States by the non-payment of the indemnity due and announcing the determination of the American government to insist upon a prompt settlement of the claims.

NO SEAT FOR QUAY.

Senate Denied Him the Right by Vote of 33 to 32

VEST VOTES AGAINST HIS FRIEND.

The Missouri Senator Dashed the Last Hope of the Friends of the Pennsylvania—Pettigrew Failed to Vote—Chandler and Daniel Spoke for Quay,

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Hon. Matthew Quay was refused a seat in the United States senate on the appointment of the governor of Pennsylvania by a vote of 33 to 32. The entire time of the senate was devoted to debate on the question, many of the greatest lawyers and orators in the body delivering speeches. As the day's session wore on and the hour for the final vote approached, the galleries gradually filled until they were thronged with multitudes, while other multitudes were unable to gain admission. On the door of the senate was every member of the body now in the city and scores of members of the house of representatives. The great throng listened with deep attention to the brilliant argument of Mr. Spooner in favor of the seating of the former Pennsylvania senator, and to the dramatic and fiery eloquence of Mr. Daniel (Va.), who appealed to his colleagues to do what, on his oath as a senator, he deemed right, and vote to do justice to him who was knocking at the senate doors.

As the big clock opposite the president pro tempore indicated the hour for the vote there was a hush in the chamber. Mr. Frye, in the chair, announced that the hour for the final vote had arrived, and that the question was the pending motion of Mr. Chandler to strike out of the resolution declaring Mr. Quay not to be entitled to a seat, the word "not." Senators throughout the chamber eagerly followed the roll call, for all knew the vote would be close. The first sensation was caused by the failure of Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) to answer to his name, although he was in his seat. When Mr. Vest's name was called he voted "no" in a clear, distinct voice, thus dashing the last hope of the friends of Mr. Quay, who had expected confidently that the distinguished Missourian would vote for his long time personal friend. In perfect silence it was announced that the senate had denied to Mr. Quay the seat which he had sought for some months past.

The vote on Mr. Chandler's motion was as follows:

Yeas—Allison, Baker, Carter, Chandler, Clark (Wyo.), Cullom, Daniel, Davis, Deboe, Foraker, Frye, Gear, Hansbrough, Jones (Nev.), McComas, McLaurin, Mason, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt (N. Y.), Scott, Sewell, Shoup, Spooner, Stewart, Sullivan, Taliaferro, Warren, Wetmore, Wolcott—32.

Nays—Allen, Bacon, Bard, Bate, Berry, Burrows, Butler, Clay, Cockrell, Culberson, Hale, Harris, Heitfeld, Hawley, Jones (Ark.), Lind, May, McBride, McChamber, McEnergy, McMillan, Martin, Money, Platt (Conn.), Proctor, Charles, Ross, Simon, Teller, Tillman, Turley, Turner, Vest, Wellington—32.

Pairs were announced as follows, the first named in each instance being favorable to Mr. Quay and the second opposed to him: Pritchard with Gallinger, Depew with Hanna, Foster with Kean, Lodge with Thurston, Kenney with Coffey, Elkins with Chilton, Fairbanks with Mallory, Hoar with Pettus and Kyle with Rawlings.

The following senators were unpaired: Aldrich, Beveridge, Clark (Mon.) and Pettigrew.

STOPPED THE CONCERTS.

Queen Shows Respect for Duke of Argyll's Memory—She Visited a Hospital.

DUBLIN, April 25.—The queen and the princesses during their drive visited the Mater Misericordiae hospital, where the mother superior and various sisters were presented to her majesty. A further stop was made at the Royal Masonic institute.

The queen returned to the vice regal lodge amid many scenes of enthusiasm.

Owing to the death of the Duke of Argyll her majesty has ordered the concerts at the vice regal lodge to be discontinued.

Too Long to Wait.

"If that's your game," replied the tailor, "the clothes will not be done at all."—Indianapolis Journal.

WOMEN AND MISSIONS.

A Feature of the Ecumenical Conference.

AN INCREASE IN THE ATTENDANCE.

Evangelistic Labors Considered at One Meeting. Bishop Thoburn Speaking On the Subject—A Number of Addressed at the Different Gatherings.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There was a noticeable increase in attendance when the Ecumenical Conference began its session with simultaneous meetings in Carnegie hall and three churches. Evangelistic work was the subject discussed at Carnegie hall, while at the Central Presbyterian church, Calvary Baptist church and the Madison Avenue Reformed church sectional meetings were held on woman's work.

The devotional service at Carnegie hall was opened by the Rev. Dr. A. S. Leonard, the corresponding secretary of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Leonard was followed by the Rev. J. W. Butler, of Mexico, who offered a short prayer, as did Bishop E. H. Hendrix, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The prayers were interspersed with hymns and remarks from the delegates.

The service of the conference at Carnegie hall was begun by Bishop E. G. Andrews, of New York, who made a brief address. Bishop J. M. Thoburn, of India, then delivered an address on the subject of the "Character and Importance of Evangelistic Work and the Conditions for Success." Then followed a symposium on evangelistic work, in which the Rev. Dr. W. F. Oldham, of Malaya, spoke on "The Manner and Form of Presenting the Gospel to Non-Christian People so Far as to Persevere and Win." H. L. Gordon, M. D., D. D., who has for many years been conducting evangelistic work in Japan, spoke on "The Best Methods of Personal Dealing With the Unconverted and Inquirers." The Rev. Dr. Henry B. Richards and the Rev. Dr. J. Taylor Hamilton spoke on "The General Pervasive Influence of Christianity."

Following these addresses there was a discussion of the different topics by the delegates.

The session at Calvary Baptist church was devoted to a woman's meeting, the principal topic under discussion being evangelistic work.

The subjects were "How to Present the Christian Truth to Women and Children," "The Work of Native Christians" and "General Evangelistic Work on Behalf of Women." The speakers were Miss Jennie Duncan, of India; Miss Alice E. Docton, of Japan, and Miss E. Baskerville, of India.

At the Central Presbyterian church another meeting of women in the interest of educational work was being held, the topics discussed were "Kindergartens," "Common and Village Schools," "Higher Education for Women" and "Training of Bible Women." Among the speakers were Mrs. Irene Barnes, of London; Miss Isabella Thoburn, of India; Miss F. L. Baldwin, of China; Mrs. T. M. McNair, of Japan, and Mrs. J. W. Francis, of Indianapolis.

At the Madison Avenue Reformed church a meeting was held, at which the general topic under discussion was "Giving." The topic was divided under these heads:

"Giving, One of the Foundation Stones of Missionary Work;" "The Doctrine of Giving;" "The Relation of Money to Salvation;" "Facts and Figures;" "Hearts and Influence;" "Time and Talents;" "Missions and Money;" "Woman's View Point of and Business Methods;" "Systematic and Proportionate Giving" and "Prayer and Gift."

Among those who spoke were Mrs. J. H. Knowles, of New York; Mrs. F. C. Hayes, of Minnesota; Mrs. A. L. Frisbie, of Des Moines; Mrs. B. M. Campbell, of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Schaefer, of Toledo; Mrs. E. M. Sprong, of Cleveland; M. A. Huntington Miller, of Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. W. F. Windgate, of Chicago; Mrs. E. C. Armstrong, of Center Valley, Ind., and Mrs. J. H. Randall, of St. Paul, Ind.

At the woman's meeting, at the Central Presbyterian church, the discussion on "The Systematic Study of Missions Among the Local Societies In This Country" was opened by Miss A. B. Child, secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston. An animated debate followed.

A uniform scheme for all woman's organizations was presented by Miss E. Harriet Stanwood, of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston.

A Vigorous Attack on Baltimore & Ohio and Reading—Dealings in Steel Industrials Large.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There were indications of some large operations on the Stock exchange Tuesday, and the market seemed to be under manipulation for the purpose of facilitating them. Monday's late show of strength found a response in the London market Tuesday morning, and prices of Americans were well advanced before the opening here. London bought quite freely in this market, after trading commenced. But it quickly became manifest that Monday's rally in prices had been largely due to the demand from the short interest. After the opening spurt buying quickly fell off and prices fell back, while the market became very dull.

The vigorous attack on Baltimore and Ohio and Reading first preferred caused declines of $3\frac{1}{4}$ and $3\frac{1}{2}$ respectively, and broke the whole list quite sharply. But at the decline very large buying developed again for both accounts, all offerings being freely absorbed apparently with no desire to advance prices. Feverishness in Sugar and one or two elapses elsewhere gave a slightly irregular tone, but the closing was generally firm and at small net changes in the majority of stocks.

Dealings in the steel industrials continued large, but the price movements were unsensational and the net changes small. The short interest continued to cover in the group on a large scale. The bears made much of the prospects of gold exports, although the sterling exchange rate, after an early advance, became somewhat uneasy.

Notwithstanding the prevailing ease of money rates here, the surplus reserves of New York banks are lower than usual at this period of the year, and the use of money continues active in the interior. The present supply to the market from the sub-treasury on account of payments of bond premiums cannot continue indefinitely. Should it be interrupted while gold exports are making inroads upon the surplus of the banks the effect on money rates would necessarily be promptly shown.

Western New York and Pennsylvania $\frac{1}{2}$ s rose $4\frac{1}{2}$ and then reacted 2. The bond market generally was rather weak. Total sales, par value, \$2,390,000.

United States refunding 2s, when issued, the 3s and old 4s declined $\frac{1}{4}$ in the bid price.

BOERS' POSITION TURNED.

Brabant and Hart Succeeded in Getting in Communication With Wepener.

LONDON, April 25.—The war office issued the following from Lord Roberts:

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 24.—Generals Brabant and Hart yesterday turned the position occupied by the enemy, who tried to prevent their moving northward, and got into heliograph communication with Colonel Dahlgrey, commanding of the besieged garrison at Wepener, who reported all well.

General Brabant has three wounded, one missing. Three were wounded on the previous day. The Border regiment had seven wounded.

At 1 p. m. yesterday Brabant and Hart were eight miles south of Wepener. The Eleventh division, under General Pole-Carew, and General French's two brigades of cavalry reached Tweed's Coluk yesterday afternoon without having met serious opposition.

THE FIEND OF NERVOUSNESS.

When a woman's mind is constantly filled with nervous unreasoning dread and apprehension it shows that her entire nervous system is disordered and broken down. Nine times in ten it indicates that there is some special disease or weakness of the important and delicate organs which make her a woman. Nine times in ten it means that some instant and radical measures must be taken to save her from complete mental and physical wreck.

"I was so nervous I couldn't bear to hear the sound of my own voice when alone" says Mrs. Nellie Brittenban, of Davenport, Thayer Co., Nebr. "I felt as though there was some one ready to grab me if the least sound was made. I really cannot describe the feelings I had, but I can say I have no such ugly feelings now and I trust I never may again. I was suffering from female weakness and very much from nervous prostration.

"I was not able to do anything. I could not sit up all day. I had not sat up all day since the birth of my baby, four months before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took one doctor's medicine for four months but did not get along at all; so discouraged, I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of the 'Prescription' and nine of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets along with the other medicines, and I can say they have done wonders for me.

"I do all my work now and feel better than for two years. I had not eaten anything for three months except some kind of soup and crackers; now I eat anything I want. I believe I owe my health to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Discouraged, broken-down women should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., and learn how carefully he studies into these apparently hopeless cases. He will send without charge, (in a plain sealed envelope) the best advice of a capable, experienced physician.

THE NEWS REVIEW

The Rogue Saved the Judge.

A judge of the English high court was once arrested on suspicion of having burglarious designs on the house of a friend in Mayfair. The police officer charged him in the police station with loitering with felonious intent, and the prisoner's description of himself as one of her majesty's judges was received with a grin of sarcastic derision.

At that moment an old offender was brought in who happened to catch sight of his lordship's face, which he had good reason to remember.

"You here, my lord!" he exclaimed, with unfeigned astonishment. "Well, this beats cockfighting."

The rogue's unsolicited corroboration of the judge's declaration saved the situation, and his lordship was allowed to depart in peace.

Murdered by Highwaymen.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 25.—Andrew Stubbis, of Pittston, was murdered while resisting two highwaymen, who rifled his pockets of everything of value. The murderers escaped, leaving no clue to their identity.

Our Debt to the Barn Fowl.

It is quite possible, though of course not demonstrable, that the humble barn fowl has been a larger benefactor of our race than any mechanical invention in our possession, for there is no inhabited country on earth today where the barn fowl is not a mainstay of health. There are vast regions of South America and Europe where it is the mainstay, and nowhere is there known anything that can take its place, which is probably more than can be said of anything in the world of mechanics.—Century.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1900.

TWO CENTS

DEBS PROVES AN ELOQUENT TALKER

His Lecture on "Labor and Liberty" Heard by a Fair Audience Last Night.

SOCIALISM IS HIS REMEDY

For All the Industrial Troubles of the Present Competitive System.

TRUSTS A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Eugene V. Debs' lecture on "Labor and Liberty" at the opera house last night under the auspices of Trades and Labor council, was not as well attended as had been expected. J. J. Weisend presided, and the presidents of the local unions acted as vice presidents.

Briefly commending organized labor, Mr. Debs began his address by saying that he would not appeal to the passions of his audience, but rather to their reason.

Centralization and combination, he said, were lowering the lower classes and driving the middle classes into bankruptcy. Private property was considered more valuable under the present competitive system than human life. The trusts shut down their mills to prevent overproduction and to protect the prices of their products. The value of products was maintained by lowering the value of men.

Deprive man of tools and he will lapse into savagery. When tools were primitive the skill was in the man and a trade had to be learned by long apprenticeship. Now the skill is in the machine. Machinery has made man a specialized worker, instead of a tradesman. Man no longer learns to make a complete article, but only a small part of an article.

The tendency was to secure cheaper production. Mr. Debs said wages were never lower than now. Wages should be measured by the worker's power of production. By machinery workers produce from 10 to 20 times as much as he could 50 years ago, but the more perfect machinery becomes the lower wages go.

Today machines make shoes, but they cannot wear them; but on the other hand diminish consumption by depriving workers of the means of buying shoes. We consequently hear of overproduction of shoes, while there are millions who need shoes. Machinery is all right, but the worker fails to get his share of the profit. There is no hand work today. The machine comes in where it takes two men to do a job and makes a slave of one and a tramp of the other. "I sympathize with the tramp; first, because he is the victim of our social system; second, because if this system continues, I may become a tramp myself." Men are thrown out of employment, start on the never-ending journey to find a job, finally become tramps. Fifty years ago there were no tramps.

Society is no better than its most degenerate member, as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link. Idle men must be supported by society and idleness leads to crime.

Our system is a competitive one. Man, employer or employee, buys where he can buy cheapest. He never thinks of the sweat shop back of the cheapness. The man who has amassed the largest fortune has destroyed the largest number of his fellow men.

Mr. Debs predicted a greater panic than those of '73 and '93 in the near future. He also said there would be no war in either South Africa or the Philippines if these countries were not commercially valuable.

Speaking of trusts he said the trust is not an evil, but a blessing in disguise. Instead of being owned by a few people, it should be owned by all the people. Honesty in business today he said, was impossible. The best man failed in business.

Private ownership caused all the mischief. If all the directors of the big railroads were to die today trains would still run on time. But if the 850,000 railroad workers stopped, traffic would cease. Socialism, the collective ownership of the means of production, was the remedy.

GOLDEN FELL.

A Resident of Shadyside Avenue Had an Accident Yesterday.

John Golden, residing on Shadyside avenue, fell over an embankment near his home yesterday and was seriously injured. He was working alone in a stone quarry about 100 yards from his home, and in some manner missed his footing and fell over the embankment, a distance of about 20 feet. THE FIRST CASE.

Howard Foutts Plead Guilty Before Justice McLane for Ill Treating a Horse.

Humane Officer Miller last evening had his first case since his appointment. Miss Martha Porter filed an affidavit in the court of Justice McLane, charging Howard Foutts with ill treating a horse. Foutts entered a plea of guilty and arranged to pay $5 and costs.

Humane Officer Miller has not in the least abated the strictness with which he is fulfilling the duties of his office. Last night two young men from the country, who had left their horse standing from 5 o'clock to 8, were notified that they would have to have the animal put up or he would take care of it.

Robinson Street.

Last night at council Peach called attention to the fact that a petition had been filed several years ago asking that Robinson street be graded and paved between Broadway and Walnut street. The street committee will look after the matter.

EXTRA POLICE RECOMMENDED

The Police Committee Made Some Suggestions In Their Report Presented Last Night.

COUNCIL TOOK NO ACTION

Except to Refer the Whole Thing to the Finance Committee For Investigation.

SOME CHANGES IN THE RULES.

At the meeting of council last night the police committee recommended the adoption of a few changes in the police rules. The report presented was as follows:

"The police committee after careful consideration of the rules governing the police force of East Liverpool, O., submit the following report and recommend that the city council concur with them in order that we may make a more efficient force and procure for the city the proper protection desired:

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 1 that it read "not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height."

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 12 that the policemen shall be permitted to wear a sack coat from May 1 to Sept. 1, but they shall be required to furnish themselves with suits as required by this rule.

"We recommend as an amendment to rule 19 that the latter clause shall read as follows: 'This rule shall not be construed as to prohibit the entering of the aforesaid premises for the purpose of general observation, or upon a suspicion that unlawfully disposed persons or lawbreakers are harbored therein.' The rule as it now stands prevents an officer from entering the saloon unless he is called upon and the new committee seek to remedy this in their amendment.

"We further recommend the addition of two regular policemen and also of two extra policemen, one to be located in the East End and one in the West End of the city from 6 p. m. to 12 p. m. every night and shall stand in line of promotion to the regular force in case of any vacancy that may arise.

"We further recommend that the mayor's office be repapered and the woodwork repainted and that a new carpet be purchased for the mayor's private office room."

The committee closed their report by stating that they had inspected the new cells and suggested that the work be finished. They also reported that the department needed eight belts and clubs, eight pair of nippers, five police stars, seven helmets, one regulation cap, one pair of handcuffs and one pistol pocket.

Peach stated that he thought the suggestions were all right, but he would like to know where the money was coming from to pay the new men. He said it was an easy matter to recommend, but another thing to provide money, and the finance question was a vital one for the council to wrestle with. He moved the matter go to the finance committee. Nice couldn't see why all the report should go to the finance committee and said the committee had considered the extra expense before they made up the report. He said the people in the suburban districts would have to have more police protection after the new street car lines were built. The report went to the finance committee, but McLane and Nice voted no on the motion.

GRIM AND WHAN WANT THE CASH

Council Spent Some Time Last Night Discussing the Worn Out Question.

GASTON WANTED TO KNOW

If Council Intended to Fight the Claims So He Could Act Accordingly.

WILL PREPARE AN OPINION.

The Grim and Whan bills had another inning at council last night, and a council meeting without them would seem strange.

The matter was called up by Clerk Hanley, who said he did it at the request of the attorney for the ex-officer.

Smith opened the debate by asking if the cases were not in court at the present time, as he had understood that they had been carried up. If the court said pay them all right, but he didn't think they ought to be paid before that time.

Marshall said if council intended to fight the claims it was necessary to give Solicitor Gaston some instruction.

Cripps said the parties got a judgment in the local court and he thought spite work was at the bottom of the action of the old solicitor in carrying the cases up. He said he understood council voted at one time to pay the bills.

Smith said council never voted to pay the bills and if the case had been carried up by the solicitor council should take no action in the matter.

Peach said the bills had been legally placed on the pay roll at one time by a vote of five to three, but it was then understood that it took six members to pass the pay roll when it only took a majority and the ruling of the chair kept them off the pay roll.

Marshall said that question was a matter of small importance and the question to be decided now was whether council wished to fight the bills, as an answer had to be filed before the next meeting of council.

Solicitor Gaston said he could have the cases dismissed at any time as far as the city was concerned, but if council wanted him to go ahead and fight them he must have some instructions.

Marshall said the matter should have been settled by the old council, and McHenry said he understood the old solicitor agreed to fight the cases at his own expense. Peach replied that he wouldn't do it, and Solicitor Gaston was asked for an opinion on the cases. He hadn't any and Nice remarked that if the solicitor didn't know anything about the case how were the new members of council expected to vote on the matter intelligently. He expressed an opinion that the matter should have been settled by the old council.

Gaston said he wasn't supposed to know anything about the cases, but that he could let the cases go by default and get permission from the court and file his answer later and in the meantime give council an opinion on the cases.

This suited all the councilmen, and the matter was ended for the steenth time.

THE CITY WILL GET INJUNCTION

Solicitor Gaston Instructed by Council to Commence an Action Against

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

And Compel Them to Get the East End Station Off the Property of the City.

MR. PEACH MADE A SPEECH

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will have to get off the city property in East End or fight a case in court, as council last night ordered Solicitor Gaston to take out an injunction preventing them from completing the station, which they are building in that part of the city.

The matter was called up in council by Peach, who said the company was well aware that the station was being built on an alley, as it had been notified and promised to stop, but had resumed the work. He said: "If the Pennsylvania company is going to take charge of the city of East Liverpool then we had better step down and out. A member of council has been working on that building, knowing that the law was being violated. I move that an injunction be taken out at once." Fisher seconded the motion and then McHenry stated that he didn't believe the city had an alley where the company was building the station, as he didn't believe the ground had ever been accepted by council. He closed by saying that he was in the contracting business and if the Pennsylvania Railroad company or any person else wanted a building put up on the public highway that was his business.

The matter was looked up and was found that the plat had been accepted some time ago and the station is on city property. The motion carried and McHenry closed the incident with the remark that it would be a long time before a station was built in the East End.

LIGHT FRANCHISE.

It Will Come Up at the Next Meeting. Copies to Be Printed.

At the meeting of council last night Smith called attention to the fact that there was a light franchise to be disposed of and made a suggestion that the clerk have several copies of the ordinance printed and presented to the members of council so that they might be thoroughly acquainted with the ordinance before they voted. Marshall remarked that the ordinance died with the last council. Smith said it would come up again and the clerk will have copies printed.

Pennsylvania Avenue Paving.

A petition was introduced in council last night asking that Pennsylvania avenue be paved from Sugar to Vine street. The petition was referred to the street committee and President Marshall remarked that hereafter all petitions of the kind must have the endorsement of the street committee before council would take action on them.

Council last night accepted the I. Bentley Pope plat of lots. Secure a home site at once. Centrally located. Don't delay. You will be too late if you do. Finest location on the market.

It is said that the company want a site, a bonus of $4,000 and that stock to the amount of $15,000 be held by Liverpool people. THE VILE SHOWS CAUSED PROTEST

From the Women's Christian Temperance Union to Be Filed With Council.

SPOKE OF OTHER THINGS

But President Marshall Said Council Wasn't the Proper Place For Communications.

LEGISLATIVE, NOT EXECUTIVE

Council received the following communication at the meeting last night:

To the Mayor and Councilmen of the City of East Liverpool, in Common Council Assembled:

"Gentlemen — We, the Women's Christian Temperance Union of East Liverpool, protest against the State Purity law being violated in our city, by the vile shows being permitted in the opera house. Also our State Sunday Rest law is not enforced; we see candy, ice cream and cigar stores opened the last two Sabbaths, also back doors of saloons, men come out and in all day on Sunday. This is contrary to law.

"We, 74 representative women of our city demand that you see to it that these laws are enforced.

"Respectfully,

"THE W. C. T. U."

President Marshall suggested that the petition might be referred to Councilman Cripps or Mayor Davidson, but that it had no business in council. He said: "Council is not an executive body. Its duty is to make laws and not to enforce them. This council is simply a legislative body and does not propose to assume the responsibility for any of the acts of the executive department. That petition has no business here and if any action is to be taken let the parties send it to the proper parties."

Park Commission Furnished With $1,000 With Which to Start Work at the Park.

Professor W. L. Thompson explained to council last night that when the park was accepted they agreed to spend $2,000 on a driveway. He said the commission was now ready to go to work and that he had purchased trees and shrubbery, but that he couldn't have it planted to any advantage until after the driveway was completed. He asked for $1,000 for the expenses this year. The money was voted the commission without a dissenting vote.

SPLENDID OFFERING.

Raised by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist church at their recent thanks offering service made a splendid collection for foreign mission work. Envelopes had been sent out with the result that $75 were raised by that means and the members of the society immediately decided to raise the balance to make it an even $100 among themselves, which was done. The ladies are much pleased with the success of the effort.

ILLEGAL.

SOLICITOR GASTON TOLD COUNCIL A FEW THINGS.

He Spoke on the Subject of the Improvement of Bradshaw Avenue Last Year.

Solicitor Gaston at the meeting of council last night called attention to the fact that he had been informed that the city had improved Bradshaw avenue in an illegal manner, and unless they undid some of the things they had done before the next meeting of council they would be enjoined from collecting some of the assessments. Peach wanted to know if the solicitor was representing the property owners or the city of East Liverpool, and in what way council had acted illegally. The solicitor replied that if he had been properly informed he thought the joining of the sewer and paving in one improvement was illegal; that the improvement cost over $5,000 and notice of the improvement should have been published in two newspapers for three weeks. This was not done. Then some of the property had been assessed over 25 per cent for the improvement.

He gave these as a few reasons for thinking the affair had been illegal and closed his statement by saying he was representing the city and not the property holders.

DIDN'T CHANGE IT.

None of the Members of Council Gathered an Ordinance Introduced Last Night.

Last evening at council an ordinance was introduced amending the pawnbrokers' ordinance so that the license would be only $25 per year instead of $100. The ordinance wasn't signed and President Marshall asked if any councilman desired to affix his signature to it. None of them did and the ordinance didn't get a place in the business.

Heddelston Objected.

Heddelston wanted to know last night if there wasn't an ordinance prohibiting the placing of wagons on the city wharf. Marshall replied that there was, and it was his duty to see that the ordinance was enforced, as he was chairman of the wharf committee.

To Finance Committee.

Clerk Hanley reported at the meeting of council last night that he had the bonds of several of the city officers. They went to the finance committee without being read.

Bone-Ache is Rheumatism

A vast amount of pain can be avoided by treating rheumatism early.

Nature sends aches in the joints, pains and fever to warn of the approach of a rheumatic attack. The cause of the trouble is uric acid and other poisons in the system. TONGALINE taken in time averts the attack. It cuts short the disease by cleansing the system. No external application of an anodyne or lotion can do this. The treatment must be internal to be effective. TONGALINE cures even the worst cases of rheumatism, cases of many years' standing which have resisted all other treatment. But it is always better to take TONGALINE to prevent than to cure.

DEBS' LECTURE.

Those who listened to E. V. Debs' lecture last night were privileged to enjoy listening to an eloquent speaker, who used clear, crisp, plain language, talked coherently and comprehensively and presented his side of the questions treated with great skill. Nevertheless it is not believed Mr. Debs made many, if any, converts to his views. The people of East Liverpool are enjoying prosperity too much to be in a receptive mood for socialistic doctrine.

TO BE APPROVED.

President Marshall seems to have a proper idea of how to transact the business of council. The News Review has repeatedly pointed out that a good deal of time, in fact most of the time of council, was taken up considering and discussing matters that should have been passed upon and reported by the committees of council instead of the whole body. The slip-shod, hap-hazard manner of doing business that has heretofore prevailed has resulted in inextricable confusion and delay in city business. By requiring some member or committee to father each matter that is brought before council there will be fewer social sessions during council meeting, less unnecessary talk and much more business transacted expeditiously and properly. The next thing for President Marshall to do is to fix a time for each committee to meet to attend to the business before it and then see that the committees meet as scheduled.

I. BENTLEY POPE.

Plat of Lots Accepted By Council Last Night—A Very Desirable
Location.

The I. Bentley Pope plat of land was accepted by our solons last night. This will be good news for many investors and parties desiring favorable locations on which to erect home residences. This plat of ground is situated on the right hand of Avondale street, and adjacent to the McKinnon addition. It is superbly located, from every standpoint, and lots thereon will be eagerly snapped up, so that it will stand you in good stead to interview Mr. Pope at your very earliest opportunity. Your home will be high and dry, with drainage facilities unsurpassed in all this section. Your view will delight your heart and eyes. The street railway, now in course of construction, will pass right by your door. As a home site, there is nothing finer on the market. As an investment, it is unexceptional. East Liverpool is pushing to the front with giant strides. Houses are in hot demand, and can scarcely be had at any price. This plat of ground comes directly under the head of centrally located. You will make no mistake in investing therein. Every level headed business man and real estate agent in this city is fully aware of the truthfulness of this assertion.

Don't delay. Don't hesitate. Don't let your neighbor have all of the good things. Make hay while the sun shines. Read this article tonight and then hasten to interview Mr. I. Bentley Pope. You cannot fail in being pleased with prices quoted and terms granted. Grasp fortune while you may. You will never regret an investment in the I. Bentley Pope plat.

Council last night accepted the I. Bentley Pope plat of lots. Secure a home site at once. Centrally located. Don't delay. You will be too late if you do. Finest location on the market.

TRENTVALE STREET.

COUNCIL HAD AN INTERESTING DEBATE.

George Reported That the Money
Was About Used Up and the Street Wasn't Completed.

Trentvale street came in for a part of the discussion at the meeting of council last night. The discussion was opened by a statement from Engineer George to the effect that the $6,000 had almost all been expended on the road. McHenry wanted the work stopped at once. Nice objected. Peach said they still had $1,000 to spend on the road. Marshall said if the street was not fit to leave when the money voted to be expended on it had been used, the engineer should be held responsible. George said he didn't propose to be held responsible for the street, as council insisted on commencing work at the wrong time of year and it wasn't his fault that the contractor had to work in mud. Marshall said an ordinance should be passed ordering a 12-foot roadway paved. The discussion ended by referring the matter to the street committee to prepare an ordinance and see that the grading is completed.

Council last night accepted the I. Bentley Pope plat of lots. Secure a home site at once. Centrally located. Don't delay. You will be too late if you do. Finest location on the market.

OUTLINED HIS PLANS.

MARSHALL TELLS HOW BUSI-NESS WILL BE DONE.

The Committees Will Have More Work to Do and the Whole Council Less.

President Marshall, at the meeting of council last night, remarked that he hoped the committees would do their duty, as it was his intention to have the work done in committees this year and that council would meet simply to ratify their actions. He said any recommendation involving the expenditure of money would hereafter be referred to the finance committee without debate and all street improvements would go to the street committee. He suggested that the light committee make a tour of the city after night and see where lights are needed.

Smith at once called attention to the fact that three lights are needed in the vicinity of Gardendale, and Peach wanted to know if Mr. Marshall considered himself, as president of council, a member of all the committees. Marshall replied that he did and would try to do his share of the work, to which Peach replied: "You have mapped out a big job for yourself, I'll tell you."

Council last night accepted the I. Bentley Pope plan of lots. Secure a home site at once. Centrally located. Don't delay. You will be too late if you do. Finest location on the market.

Pleasant Street.

Clerk Hanley reported at council last night that the estimate of the valuation of the property on Pleasant street which the residents want paved had been prepared. The matter was referred to the finance committee together with the petition, but the street committee got the resolution to graded the street.

COLORED CHURCH GOT TWO HUNDRED

Council Took Action on a Damage Claim Presented Last Night.

THE SAME OLD QUESTION

As to Whether Council Could Legally Grant the Amount Was Discussed.

OPINION OF SOLICITOR GASTON.

Last night at council a communication was received from Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor of the African M. E. church, stating that his church had been damaged to the extent of $700 by the improvement to Grant street, but that they would be willing to settle for $200. Nice said he understood a former council had voted to pay the claim. Marshall stated that they had to back out of the agreement, as the solicitor had decided their action was not legal. Nice said he wanted some other opinion than that of the former solicitor and said the congregation was entitled to the money, and for that reason he moved it be paid to them minus the $90 they would be assessed for the street improvement. Solicitor Gaston was asked for an opinion and said he was inclined to agree with the former solicitor that the action of the former council was not legal, but that the matter now came to them in the form of a damage claim and they could pay it, but the former council had no right to donate money to the congregation. McHenry wanted to know if the property was damaged and the solicitor replied that he hadn't seen the place, but whether they had or not would not affect the legality of the action, and council could pay the amount if they wanted. A vote was taken on the motion and Arnold asked to be excused from voting, saying he didn't know enough about the matter to vote intelligently. He was excused and the motion carried. McHenry voting no. A resolution was passed authorizing the payment to the church of $110.

THE SCARLET WOMEN.

She is the Gateway That Leads to Sorrow, Shame, Disgrace, Disaster and Death.

Young men and women of this city are treading the pathway which leads to awful sorrow, sin, shame, disgrace and terrible suffering, even on this earth. The scarlet woman is a curse second only to that of the gin mill and rum hole, better known as the saloon. She is part and parcel of the latter, however, as they almost invariably go hand in hand, twin devils in the employ of the boss of hades. One of these scarlet women continues to ply her nefarious traffic on Walnut street, and she has already cursed the lives of young men and young women of East Liverpool. Two young printers, of this city, mere boys, are in the clutches of this fiend, and have become very reckless and bold in their visits to her den of iniquity. One of the couple designated had a very bad scare a few years since, when he was involved in a shameful proceeding, which, if mercy had not been shown him, would have banished him forever from East Liverpool. He should have common sense enough to remember the bitterness of his situation at that time, and act as if he is not lost to all sense of decency. The other youngster aspires to mingle with decent society and calls himself a gentleman. He would better call a halt on his present course, as the house in question has justly acquired a very unsavory reputation, and the neighbors have decided that forbearance has ceased to be a virtue, and the scarlet woman and her visitors may find lodgment in the city lockup, when names will be given in full in these columns.

A HANNA GATHERING.

The Ohio Convention Enthuses Over His Presence.

BUSINESS WAS RESUMED TODAY.

The Cleveland Senator Made a Keynote Speech, as Did Temporary Chairman Nevin—Prayer by President Thompson of the Ohio State University.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—The Republican state convention reconvened today.

A great administration demonstration occurred yesterday. Usually there is only one keynote speech, that of the temporary chairman, but there were two, and the one that caused more comment than any other convention speech in the history of the Ohio Republicans was by Senator Hanna. It was very much of a Hanna day, without dissenting or discordant notes. The senator arrived early in the morning and was engaged all the forenoon in receiving visitors. Several delegations called on him in a body, and he responded in short speeches. At the district meetings in the afternoon his friends were selected on the new state committee and all other committees. When Senator Hanna entered the convention hall there was a great demonstration and he was forced to bow acknowledgments from the platform.

With two keynote speeches and other proceedings there was no reference at any time to the currency, the tariff or any former issues. After prayer by Dr. W. C. Thompson, president of Ohio State University, State Chairman Myron A. Norris, of Youngstown, in calling the convention to order, made quite an address, but there was no reference to old issues. Then Hon. Robert M. Nevin was introduced as the temporary chairman, and he made a decisive hit in his forcible delivery, and especially in the peculiar emphasis he put on the words "as an admiral," in referring to Dewey.

The Hon. R. H. Nevin, temporary chairman, said in part:

"Ohio's gifted son, William McKinley, was triumphantly elected, and every promise that has been made by the national convention in St. Louis has, throughout this administration been loyally fulfilled."

After referring to the war with Spain and the treaty of Paris and the acquisition of the Philippines, he said in part concerning the latter:

"I cannot understand how any man born and raised in the United States of America, familiar with the spirit of our people, governed by its institutions, reared under our flag, can believe for one instant that any administration that ever could be elected could, or would dare do anything except that which would lead to the peace and the happiness and the prosperity of this people. Nor can I conceive how any man who was born under the flag and who has one drop of American blood in his veins could say that we should haul down our flag and withdraw our soldiers from the Philippine islands so long as there is one man in armed rebellion, or so long as there is a single individual in all the islands in open resistance to the government and to the flag."

Advertising to the Porto Rico tariff bill he said in part:

"I know there have been some differences of opinion in our ranks as to the tariff part of this measure, some sentiment as to the constitution following the flag, but I believe that when the conditions and the wants and the needs of the people are considered, these differences will pass away. We must remember that on that little island there are almost 1,000,000 people, 90 per cent of them illiterate unable to read or write and entirely unlearned in the ways and arts of government, and utterly unfit at this time to govern themselves."

"It is expected by this measure that enough revenue will be secured to pay the expenses and in due time to educate and bring the people up to our own standard of citizenship, and then we will incorporate them into our own union as full-grown citizens."

After referring to the prosperity of the country, and the expansion of its trade, he continued:

"And why change this? And for what? Has there been anything in the past of the Democratic party that would warrant it being placed in power? Has it changed any since it had power? Has it changed since 1869? Does it not still, through its mouthpiece and its leader, insist upon the Chicago platform?"

Senator Hanna said in part:

"As your chairman has said, the Republicans of Ohio and the Republicans of the United States are confronted today with many new propositions and issues, thrown around us like tangled grass in our pathway, by the Democratic party attempting to raise new issues upon every move of policy made by the government, seeking some issues, some opportunity, to manifest their opposition to the policy of the Republican party."

"I say the time of the hour is one of absolute fearlessness on the part of the Republicans. We are courageous, as your chairman has said, of having fulfilled every promise made. We took this country into our hands, and under our care after four years of the greatest vicissitudes through which we have ever passed in the world at our convention in St. Louis we maintained the policy and the doctrine of the Republican party upon which had been builded the material interests of twenty odd years. We promised such reforms and economic measures as would produce material benefits to the country, and went further and said we will go beyond even the ideals of our fathers in the great results which must come from the perpetuation of such a policy. The best evidence of that policy is in what we have accomplished and achieved as affecting the material interests of this country. Your chairman made some statements with reference to the growth of export trade. Why, he did not state half of it."

The balance of net trade, in favor of the United States during the last century preceding this administration amounted to $311,000,000. In 100 years that was the net balance to the credit of the United States in our trade with the world. In three years of the administration of President William McKinley the net balance, as shown by the books of the United States treasury, is $1,400,000,000. [Great applause and cries of "Good."] It is $1,100,000,000 more accomplished in those three years than had been accomplished in 100 years preceding. And then, looking into the face of such results, I repeat your chairman's words, 'Do we want a change?'

Do we want any different business combinations for us? Do we want any different policy for the American people than that which is building up and making the greatest, the richest and the strongest nation on earth? The laws of commerce, regulated by the best economic measures, are as infallible as the laws of nature. We have proved to this country and to the world that our policy of economics is irresistible and must succeed, and in the few years of trial that we have had under this administration we have proved that, in the ratio of progress, ever year looking ahead to our enormous wealth and gain, we shall be made stronger and be given far better and wider opportunities to do good in the march of Christianity and civilization of the world.

The results of the war with Spain are not accidental. The destiny which has been written for this country must be fulfilled in the natural order of things. It was but one step forward in the direction of the duty set for us to do, and no matter what influences may be thrown around us to impede our progress, it can not and will not stop. [Renewed cheering.]

I do not care whether you call it imperialism or expansion. The destiny of this country is written, and any party or combination of men that attempts, by any subterfuge or makeshift in politics, to stop the power and progress of this nation, will go down under it just as the Democratic party has gone down. [Renewed cheering.] We are proud of our record; we are proud of our business experience, and we are glad to have had the opportunity to demonstrate to the world that the policy and business principles of the American people meant the civilization and Christianization of the whole world. [Tremendous cheering.] It is that success in material things which gives us that opportunity and makes it possible to accomplish these great results.

"Now that we are embarking in this new policy, and now that this government is confronted with the responsibilities which are upon us, we ask the Republican party in Ohio, as we did four years ago, to sound the keynote to the balance of the union; to express her confidence in her great leader, our president. [More cheering.] To show by the interest they take, and the efforts they make in this campaign, their confidence in that leadership, in their determination to stand loyally by him and his policy. [Renewed cheering.]

"His courage during all the dark days of that war and many complications which succeeded it has never failed for one moment. And I want to improve this opportunity to say in this presence that there never has been an hour, not a moment, that he has not been in touch with his party in Washington. [Renewed cheering.] The consciousness that he is prepared for and is meeting every difficulty, determined to do what seems best and right for the people in our insular possessions, at the same time maintaining the dignity and prestige of our country and protecting our labor and our industries—that feeling that he is doing right—has enabled him to call to his support that aid which always comes to a strong leader of men, and no matter what collateral issues may be arranged in the coming campaign, I know that the people of the United States feel comfortable and confident when they know that William McKinley is at the wheel. [Tremendous cheering.]

"I say, my fellow Republicans, that we want to commence to do business, and the spirit and harmony which pervade this convention is a good augury that we will work together in this campaign shoulder to shoulder for a common cause, forgetting all individual contests and lend ourselves to one great united effort to put the Republican party of the state of Ohio where it always is—to the front (more cheering), and through the campaign to maintain that position as an example to the whole country. Let us commence now as soon as the duties of this convention are over make our organization, as we always do, perfect, forgetting, as I said, all differences, but looking to the common end and the success of the whole party, placing us in such a position that, whatever faltering and indecision there may be in other sections of the country, Ohio will stand, as she always does, in a solid phalanx in the front of the fight. [Long and continued cheering.]

As soon as order was restored, Chairman Nevin read the following telegram from Senator Foraker:

"To the Republicans of Ohio:

"On account of the action of the insular committee in reporting an amendment to the senate resolutions, continuing present officials in Porto Rico until Aug. 1 next, which it is expected will be adopted today and come to the senate tomorrow, it is impossible for me to leave here, as you will well understand and appreciate. Please kindly excuse my absence to the convention and express my regret that I am denied the pleasure of joining with the Republicans of Ohio in the important but agreeable work of organizing for the renomination of William McKinley and his triumphant election."

The new state central committee was announced, as follows:

First district, V. J. Fagan, Hamilton. Second, Peter Durr, Hamilton. Third, Mark Slater, Montgomery. Fourth, G. B. Rumbough, Allen. Fifth, W. H. McClinton, Defiance. Sixth, Coles Gilliland, Highland. THE PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS.

Their Convention Met at Harrisburg Today—Probable Delegates to Philadelphia.

HARRISBURG, April 25.—The Republican state convention met here today to nominate candidates for auditor general, congressmen-at-large and thirty-two presidential electors (four at large), and to choose eight delegates and eight alternates-at-large to the national convention at Philadelphia.

Senator E. B. Hardberger, of Wayne county, has no opposition for auditor general, and he will probably be the unanimous choice of the convention. The candidates for congressmen-at-large, two to be nominated, are Galusha A. Grow, of Susquehanna county, the incumbent; Robert H. Forde, of Philadelphia; Dr. Theodore L. Flood, of Meadville; ex-Congressman William C. Arnold, of Meadville, and John B. Steel, of Greensburg. All the candidates are on the ground, conducting an active canvass. The probable delegates-at-large are M. S. Quay, of Beaver; Governor W. A. Stone, of Allegheny; Attorney General John P. Elkin, Indiana; State Chairman Frank Reeder, Easton; ex-Congressman John S. Leisenring, Wilkesbarre; B. W. Green, Emporia; ex-Senator Charles A. Porter and James Elverson, Philadelphia.

Congressman William Connell, of Scranton, is advocating the adoption of a resolution by the convention pledging the delegation to Postmaster General Emory Smith for vice president. The indications are that the convention will be a very quiet and harmonious gathering, and that its business will be transacted in a few hours.

PRESIDENT IN CLEVELAND.

Visiting His Sisters Today—Visited Graves of Dead Relatives In Canton.

CLEVELAND, April 25.—President McKinley is here today, visiting his sisters, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Helen McKinley. He will return to Canton tonight.

CANTON, April 25.—The president and wife yesterday went to the cemetery to the graves of their relatives.

On returning from the cemetery President McKinley paid a visit to Judge Day and Postmaster Frease. He also visited during the day his business and office block and met his tenants. The evening was quickly passed at the Barber home. Scores of old neighbors and friends called to pay their respects.

The president and party will leave Canton at 4 o'clock Thursday evening for Washington via the Pennsylvania railroad.

FENIANS NOT SUSPECTED.

United States Consul Reports Again On Welland Canal Explosion.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The latest report from the United States consul at Clifton, Canada, respecting the Welland canal outrages goes to exonerate what are known in Canada as Fenians from complicity in the attempt to blow up the lock and disable the canal.

The grain handlers of Buffalo also being given a certificate of good character, the actual movers in the affair must remain a mystery, according to the consul, unless the examination of the three men now held under arrest in Canada for the crime shall throw light upon the affair.

A Warning to the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25.—The porte has received telegrams from the Turkish minister at Washington, Ali Ferrouh Bey, pointing out the bad impression created in the United States by the non-payment of the indemnity due and announcing the determination of the American government to insist upon a prompt settlement of the claims.

NO SEAT FOR QUAY.

Senate Denied Him the Right by Vote of 33 to 32

VEST VOTES AGAINST HIS FRIEND.

The Missouri Senator Dashed the Last Hope of the Friends of the Pennsylvania—Pettigrew Failed to Vote—Chandler and Daniel Spoke for Quay,

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Hon. Matthew Quay was refused a seat in the United States senate on the appointment of the governor of Pennsylvania by a vote of 33 to 32. The entire time of the senate was devoted to debate on the question, many of the greatest lawyers and orators in the body delivering speeches. As the day's session wore on and the hour for the final vote approached, the galleries gradually filled until they were thronged with multitudes, while other multitudes were unable to gain admission. On the door of the senate was every member of the body now in the city and scores of members of the house of representatives. The great throng listened with deep attention to the brilliant argument of Mr. Spooner in favor of the seating of the former Pennsylvania senator, and to the dramatic and fiery eloquence of Mr. Daniel (Va.), who appealed to his colleagues to do what, on his oath as a senator, he deemed right, and vote to do justice to him who was knocking at the senate doors.

As the big clock opposite the president pro tempore indicated the hour for the vote there was a hush in the chamber. Mr. Frye, in the chair, announced that the hour for the final vote had arrived, and that the question was the pending motion of Mr. Chandler to strike out of the resolution declaring Mr. Quay not to be entitled to a seat, the word "not." Senators throughout the chamber eagerly followed the roll call, for all knew the vote would be close. The first sensation was caused by the failure of Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) to answer to his name, although he was in his seat. When Mr. Vest's name was called he voted "no" in a clear, distinct voice, thus dashing the last hope of the friends of Mr. Quay, who had expected confidently that the distinguished Missourian would vote for his long time personal friend. In perfect silence it was announced that the senate had denied to Mr. Quay the seat which he had sought for some months past.

The vote on Mr. Chandler's motion was as follows:

Yes—Allison, Baker, Carter, Chandler, Clark (Wyo.), Cullom, Daniel, Davis, Deboe, Foraker, Gey, Gear, Haubrough, Jones (Nev.), McComas, McLaurin, Mason, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt (N. Y.), Scott, Sewell, Shoup, Spooner, Stewart, Sullivan, Taliaferro, Warren, Wetmore, Wolcott—32.

Nays—Allen, Bacon, Bard, Bate, Berry, Burrows, Butler, Clay, Cockrell, Culberson, Hale, Harris, Heitfeld, Hawley, Jones (Ark.), Lindsey, McBride, McComber, McEnery, McMillan, Martin, Money, Platt (Conn.), Proctor, Charles, Ross, Simon, Teller, Tillman, Turley, Turner, Wellington—33.

Pairs were announced as follows, the first named in each instance being favorable to Mr. Quay and the second opposed to him: Pritchard with Gallingher, Depew with Hanna, Foster with Kean, Lodge with Thurston, Kenney with Coffey, Elkins with Clifton, Fairbanks with Mallory, Hoar with Pettus and Kyle with Rawlings.

The following senators were unpaired: Aldrich, Beveridge, Clark (Mon.) and Pettigrew.

STOPPED THE CONCERTS.

WOMEN AND MISSIONS.

A Feature of the Ecumenical Conference.

AN INCREASE IN THE ATTENDANCE.

Evangelistic Labors Considered at One Meeting. Bishop Thoburn Speaking On the Subject—A Number of Addressed at the Different Gatherings.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There was a noticeable increase in attendance when the Ecumenical Conference began its session with simultaneous meetings in Carnegie hall and three churches. Evangelistic work was the subject discussed at Carnegie hall, while at the Central Presbyterian church, Calvary Baptist church and the Madison Avenue Reformed church sectional meetings were held on woman's work.

The devotional service at Carnegie hall was opened by the Rev. Dr. A. S. Leonard, the corresponding secretary of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Leonard was followed by the Rev. J. W. Butler, of Mexico, who offered a short prayer, as did Bishop E. H. Hendrix, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The prayers were interspersed with hymns and remarks from the delegates.

The service of the conference at Carnegie hall was begun by Bishop E. G. Andrews, of New York, who made a brief address. Bishop J. M. Thoburn, of India, then delivered an address on the subject of the "Character and Importance of Evangelistic Work and the Conditions for Success." Then followed a symposium on evangelistic work, in which the Rev. Dr. W. F. Oldham, of Malaya, spoke on "The Manner and Form of Presenting the Gospel to Non-Christian People so Far as to Persuade and Win," H. L. Gordon, M. D., D. D., who has for many years been conducting evangelistic work in Japan, spoke on "The Best Methods of Personal Dealing With the Unconverted and Inquirers." The Rev. Dr. Henry B. Richards and the Rev. Dr. J. Taylor Hamilton spoke on "The General Pervasive Influence of Christianity."

Following these addresses there was a discussion of the different topics by the delegates.

The session at Calvary Baptist church was devoted to a woman's meeting, the principal topic under discussion being evangelistic work.

The subjects were "How to Present the Christian Truth to Women and Children," "The Work of Native Christians" and "General Evangelistic Work on Behalf of Women." The speakers were Miss Jennie Duncan, of India; Miss Alice E. Doton, of Japan, and Miss E. Baskerville, of India.

At the Central Presbyterian church another meeting of women in the interest of educational work was being held, the topics discussed were "Kindergartens," "Common and Village Schools," "Higher Education for Women" and "Training of Bible Women." Among the speakers were Mrs. Irene Barnes, of London; Miss Isabella Thoburn, of India; Miss F. L. Baldwin, of China; Mrs. T. M. McNair, of Japan, and Mrs. J. W. Francis, of Indianapolis.

At the Madison Avenue Reformed church a meeting was held, at which the general topic under discussion was "Giving." The topic was divided under these heads:

"Giving, One of the Foundation Stones of Missionary Work;" "The Doctrine of Giving;" "The Relation of Money to Salvation;" "Facts and Figures;" "Hearts and Influence;" "Time and Talents;" "Missions and Money;" "Woman's View Point of and Business Methods;" "Systematic and Proportional Giving" and "Prayer and Gift."

Among those who spoke were Mrs. J. H. Knowles, of New York; Mrs. F. C. Hayes, of Minnesota; Mrs. A. L. Fribbie, of Des Moines; Mrs. B. M. Campbell, of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Schaefer, of Toledo; Mrs. E. M. Sprong, of Cleveland; M. A. Huntingdon Miller, of Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. W. F. Windgate, of Chicago; Mrs. E. C. Armstrong, of Center Valley, Ind., and Mrs. J. H. Randall, of St. Paul, Ind.

At the woman's meeting, at the Central Presbyterian church, the discussion on "The Systematic Study of Missions Among the Local Societies In This Country" was opened by Miss A. B. Child, secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston. An animated debate followed.

A uniform scheme for all woman's organizations was presented by Miss E. Harriet Stanwood, of the Woman's Board of Missions, Congregational, Boston.

▲ Vigorous Attack on Baltimore & Ohio and Reading—Dealing in Steel Industrials Large.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There were indications of some large operations on the Stock exchange Tuesday, and the market seemed to be under manipulation for the purpose of facilitating them. Monday's late show of strength found a response in the London market Tuesday morning, and prices of Americans were well advanced before the opening here. London bought quite freely in this market, after trading commenced. But it quickly became manifest that Monday's rally in prices had been largely due to the demand from the short interest. After the opening spurt buying quickly fell off and prices fell back, while the market became very dull.

The vigorous attack on Baltimore and Ohio and Reading first preferred caused declines of $3\frac{1}{8}$ and $3\frac{1}{2}$ respectively, and broke the whole list quite sharply. But at the decline very large buying developed again for both accounts, all offerings being freely absorbed apparently with no desire to advance prices. Feverishness in Sugar and one or two elapses elsewhere gave a slightly irregular tone, but the closing was generally firm and at small net changes in the majority of stocks.

Dealings in the steel industrials continued large, but the price movements were unsensational and the net changes small. The short interest continued to cover in the group on a large scale. The bears made much of the prospects of gold exports, although the sterling exchange rate, after an early advance, became somewhat unsteady.

Notwithstanding the prevailing ease of money rates here, the surplus reserves of New York banks are lower than usual at this period of the year, and the use of money continues active in the interior. The present supply to the market from the sub-treasury on account of payments of bond premiums cannot continue indefinitely. Should it be interrupted while gold exports are making inroads upon the surplus of the banks the effect on money rates would necessarily be promptly shown.

Western New York and Pennsylvania $\frac{3}{4}$ s rose $4\frac{1}{8}$ and then reacted 2 . The bond market generally was rather weak. Total sales, par value, \$2,390,000.

United States refunding 2s, when issued, the 3s and old 4s declined $\frac{1}{4}$ in the bid price.

BOERS' POSITION TURNED.

Brabant and Hart Succeeded in Getting In Communication With Wepener.

LONDON, April 25.—The war office issued the following from Lord Roberts:

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 24.—Generals Brabant and Hart yesterday turned the position occupied by the enemy, who tried to prevent their moving northward, and got into heliograph communication with Colonel Dahlgren, commanding of the besieged garrison at Wepener, who reported all well.

General Brabant has three wounded, one missing. Three were wounded on the previous day. The Border regiment had seven wounded.

At 1 p.m. yesterday Brabant and Hart were eight miles south of Wepener. The Eleventh division, under General Pole-Carew, and General French's two brigades of cavalry reached Tweed's Coluk yesterday afternoon without having met serious opposition.

THE FIEND OF NERVOUSNESS.

When a woman's mind is constantly filled with nervous unreasoning dread and apprehension it shows that her entire nervous system is disordered and broken down. Nine times in ten it indicates that there is some special disease or weakness of the important and delicate organs which make her a woman. Nine times in ten it means that some instant and radical measures must be taken to save her from complete mental and physical wreck.

"I was so nervous I couldn't bear to hear the sound of my own voice when alone," says Mrs. Nellie Brittenham, of Davenport, Thayer Co., Nebr. "I felt as though there was some one ready to grab me if the least sound was made. I really cannot describe the feelings I had, but I can say I have no such ugly feelings now and I trust I never may again. I was suffering from female weakness and very much from nervous prostration.

"I was not able to do anything. I could not sit up all day. I had not sat up all day since the birth of my baby, four months before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took one doctor's medicine for four months but did not get along at all; so, discouraged, I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of the 'Prescription' and nine of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets along with the other medicines, and I can say they have done wonders for me.

"I do all my work now and feel better than for two years. I had not eaten anything for three months except some kind of soup and crackers; now I eat anything I want. I believe I owe my health to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Discouraged, broken-down women should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., and learn how carefully he studies into these apparently hopeless cases. He will send without charge, (in a plain sealed envelope) the best advice of a capable, experienced physician.

The Rogue Saved the Judge.

A judge of the English high court was once arrested on suspicion of having burglarious designs on the house of a friend in Mayfair. The police officer charged him in the police station with loitering with felonious intent, and the prisoner's description of himself as one of her majesty's judges was received with a grin of sarcastic derision.

At that moment an old offender was brought in who happened to catch sight of his lordship's face, which he had good reason to remember.

"You here, my lord?" he exclaimed, with unfeigned astonishment. "Well, this beats cockfighting."

The rogue's unsolicited corroboration of the judge's declaration saved the situation, and his lordship was allowed to depart in peace.
